ISLAND OF FORMOSA IS BEING SWEEP BY TERRIFIC TYPHOON

Extensive and Severe Loss Reported Over Large Area—Many Houses Destroyed—Trains Are Halted and Communication Disrupted—Banana and Sugar Plantations Suffer

TOKIO, July 30 (AP)—The Rengo (Japanese) News Agency reported today from Taihoku that the whole island of Formosa was in the grip of one of the worst typhoons ever experienced there. The central part of the island was reported suffering extensive and severe damage. The city of Shichiku, which suffered from two disastrous earthquakes this year, was hard hit.

Trains ceased operating on the island and communication wires were down in many places. Large trees were uprooted, and lives were endangered by signboards and roofs flying through the air.

HOUSES DESTROYED
An unknown number of houses were destroyed in the thickly-populated areas. Banana and sugar plantations were seriously damaged. All streams were rising dangerously high in central Formosa.

Taihoku was in darkness early today after the rising winds had damaged the power house.

THIRD THIS SEASON
The typhoon is the third this season to hit Formosa.

Rengo reported a severe dust storm at Taihoku, in the central part of the island, and a curious lack of rain.

The typhoon is expected to cross Formosa and head toward China.

BANDITS CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

British Correspondent and German Companion Held Captive

KALGAN, Inner Mongolia, July 29 (CP-Havas).—Officials of four countries sought tonight to obtain the release of Gareth Jones, former secretary of David Lloyd George, and Herbert Mueller, correspondent for the official German News Bureau, held captive by a band of Chinese army deserters.

Meanwhile, anxiety was expressed in Peking over reports of extensive and daring bandit activity in the vicinity of Luau-Hsien, where ten wealthy residents of towns in the area were kidnapped. Residents were said to be in a state of terror. Chinese authorities rushed 500 military police to Paohang, about forty miles from here, to comb the area where Jones and Mueller were reported captured.

CABLE FOR REPORT
The British Foreign Office, acting upon request from Lloyd George, cabled the Peking embassy for an immediate report.

Japanese army officials were ordered to co-operate in the hunt for Jones, who has been acting as correspondent for The Manchester Guardian, and his German companion.

Jones and Mueller were taken prisoners near Paohang yesterday. Their Russian chauffeur, who escaped with a Chinese servant, told the authorities at Paohang that the bandits demanded $40,000 and 200 Mauser rifles as ransom.

Search continued meanwhile for two Franciscan missionaries, R. V. Epiphanius Penedo and Brother Pascal, kidnapped Saturday from the leper hospital near Ta-Tsien-Lu in Western-Szechwan Province.

WALL OF WATER CAUSES BIG LOSS

Flood Sweeps Through Ohio Valley Taking One Life—Damage Is $1,000,000

LOAN, Ohio, July 29 (AP).—A devastating wall of water five feet high which swept through the fertile Hocking Valley, leaving one dead and property damage upwards of $1,000,000, was subsiding tonight.

The American Red Cross and local relief agencies immediately began to alleviate suffering among the hundreds of families left homeless. The flood, following three days of heavy rains, was the worst since 1913. At Lancaster 300 families were homeless.

Discover Human Skeleton on Farm

SIDNEY, Man, July 29 (AP).—Police investigating tonight the finding of a partly-buried skeleton of a man on a farm near here. The man apparently had been buried nude, and the remains indicated that his left forearm had been broken. Authorities believed the man had been dead less than four years.

Irish Women Throw Stones at Police

A peaceful auction of seized cattle, in Fermoy, Ireland, turned suddenly, on July 13, to a scene of confusion, and rioting as women gathered at the sale indulged in stone-and-egg throwing at policemen who tried to disperse them. In this picture a squadron of police, some of them shown reaching for their guns, are seen charging the group of women at the left, who bravely stood their ground for a time.

Will Start Work on Fraser Bridge Without Federal Approval

PREMIER Pattullo announced yesterday that construction of a $3,500,000 toll bridge over the Fraser River at New Westminster would be proceeded with by the Government immediately, without waiting on certificate of approval from the Federal authorities at Ottawa. Federal approval, requisite for the erection of bridges over navigable waterways, has not yet been secured, it was intimated.

The Government, through its agents, had previously called tenders, and awarded the contract for the major part of the intended work to the Dominion Bridge Company, which is to help dispose of $2,000,000 in bonds to finance a start on the work. The existing free bridge over the Fraser will be removed in three years, the Premier said.

Admiralty Calls Published Plans Quite Imaginary

Daily Herald Prints Purported Programme of Construction to Cost $750,000,000—Revealed as Possible British Plan Depending on International Situation for Its Fulfillment

LONDON, July 29 (CP-Havas).—Purported disclosure of a seven-year naval building programme by The Daily Herald, Opposition organ, reveals a possible British programme, not a definite plan, it was reliably learned tonight.

Official quarters declined any comment on the report. Lord Londonderry, Lord Privy Seal, outlined British naval policy again in response to questions in the House of Lords, but at no time did he mention the report.

BASED ON CONJECTURE
Having verbally described The Herald's story as "purely imaginary and based on conjecture," the Admiralty decided to let the matter rest without issuing a statement.

Such a construction and replacement programme as that outlined by The Herald, which claimed that plans already were drawn up calling for expenditure of $750,000,000 by 1942, may be considered as a project.

Edmonton Visited By Damaging Fire

EDMONTON, July 29 (AP).—Ten thousand bushels of grain valued at $7,000 and a 40,000-bushel elevator were destroyed here today when fire swept the plant of the Edmonton Grain & Hay Company.

Total damage was estimated at $80,000. Several firemen escaped narrowly when sections of iron flooring came crashing down as they stood at the bottom of the shaft.

Retires From Politics

SAINT JOHN, N.B., July 29 (AP).—Thomas Bell, M.P. for St. John-Albert, announced his retirement from the office tonight when Conservatives met here. A nomination convention will be held some time after August 8. Mr. Bell said his health made the retirement from politics necessary.

Medicine Hat, Alta., July 29 (AP).—Large branches were ripped from trees in all sections of Medicine Hat and fences and signboards were flattened by a gale that struck the city over the week-end. Government Meteorologist Charles Pickering said the wind would not be so detrimental to crops as farmers believed.

LEAGUE'S SPECIAL COMMITTEE ADJOURNS FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

Recover Body of Father Allard in Northern Stream

BADLY bruised after floating about twelve miles down the river from Cottonwood Rapids, the body of Rev. Father E. Allard, reported drowned recently in the Liard section, was recovered on Sunday by three Indians from McDame Creek, the Provincial Police were advised yesterday. The remains were found in mid-channel in four feet of water, and terribly mangled. Interment was made at the scene, by request of church officials in the diocese.

FRACTION OF CLAIM TAKEN
U.S. Government to Settle Action Against Reifels For $500,000

SEATTLE, July 29 (AP).—Coming as a surprise on the eve of the trial, announcement was made tonight that the Government's claim action to collect $17,250,000 from the Reifels liquor interests of Vancouver had been settled out of court for $500,000.

The announcement came from Sam E. Whitaker, Special Assistant United States Attorney-General, who stated he will ask Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer to dismiss the suit tomorrow when the case is called for trial.

OFFER ACCEPTED
Whitaker said he had received a telegram from Joseph B. Keenan, Washington, D.C. Assistant United States Attorney-General, informing him that the offer of the defendants to settle for $500,000 cash had been accepted by the Attorney-General.

The Government took court action to attempt to collect the large sum from Henry Reifel and George G. Reifel, his son, for customs duties, customs penalties and internal revenue taxes, alleged due on approximately $1,000,000 worth of liquor the defendants were accused of smuggling into the United States.

INDICTMENTS STAND
Criminal indictments charging the pair with smuggling huge quantities of liquor into the United States under prohibition laws are still on the docket. Whitaker would not say whether these charges would be dismissed, in view of the latest developments.

No hint of the compromise offer was given out here during the past week, pending acceptance from Continued on Page 5, Column 2

Wounded in Abdomen by An Attacker

WINDSOR, Ont., July 30 (AP).—Mrs. Petrolia Onki, thirty-nine, was rushed to hospital early today with a severe abdominal wound. From information available, it is understood the woman was attacked by an unknown man as she walked past an open field in a poorly-lit district in the east end of the city. Her condition is serious.

Government to Pay Quarter Million in Health Programmes

New Tubercular Wing and Its Outfitting at Vancouver Will Cost $150,000—Renovations and Additions at Coquitlam Will Total $80,000

HON. Dr. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, corroborated yesterday the fact that the British Columbia Government plans to spend $250,000 shortly on a special programme of building and equipment purchase in connection with health and welfare institutions of the Province.

Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Works, explained $150,000 of the sum will be spent in Vancouver by construction and outfitting of a new tubercular wing beside the existing Vancouver chest clinic quarters, at the Vancouver General Hospital site.

Approximately $80,000, Mr. MacPherson said, will be spent at Coquitlam, where the Boys' Industrial School, an infirmary at Coquitlam for 150 aged persons from Escondido, relief of some congestion at mental hospitals, and, in due course, the new T.B. wing at Vancouver.

The balance of the $250,000 will be used in connection with various incidental items on the programme, including provision of steam heat at the boys' institution at Coquitlam, it was said.

Commander-in-Chief of Reserve Fleet

REAR-ADMIRAL G. C. DICKENS

GRANDSON of the novelist, was made commander-in-chief of the reserve fleet of the Royal Navy, succeeding Vice-Admiral Astley-Rushton, killed in an automobile accident recently. Rear-Admiral Dickens, who is fifty-four years of age, had been director of the naval intelligence for the last three years.

BANDIT SHOOT POLICE CHIEF

Lynching Threatened When Capture Made—Posse Out For Second Man

DUNSMUIR, Cal., July 29 (AP).—Chief of Police F. R. Daw was killed and another officer slightly wounded as bullets pierced his hat when two bandits, one of whom was later captured, met an order to halt with a burst of gunfire on the outskirts of Dunsmuir today.

Less than an hour after the shooting, a man identified as one of the bandits was captured in Dunsmuir by two members of a citizens' posse, who overpowered and disarmed him. He gave the name of C. L. Johnson.

Johnson late today was taken to the Slaklyou County Jail at Yreka to protect him from possible mob violence after lynching threats had been made by angry friends of the dead police officer.

A posse of 300 armed men, with bloodhounds, scoured the heavily-forested, mountainous region north of here tonight in an effort to capture Johnson's companion.

GUARDS ARE KIDNAPPED

Twelve guards were reported kidnapped after putting up a vigorous defence against the attackers.

Japanese and Manchukuan troops were dispatched from Kirin and Hsinking in an effort to rescue the prisoners alive and capture the bandits.

ROBBERS TAKE QUEEN'S RUBIES

Marie Antoinette's Necklace Was Among Jewels Stolen From New York Store

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP).—While thousands of persons passed a Fifth Avenue jewelry store late today, two robbers stripped it of its stock, including a ruby necklace once owned by Marie Antoinette.

Police estimated their loot as high as $100,000, exclusive of the necklace, which could not be priced. It had been on display in the show window for a week with a card by which the French Government certified its authenticity. The necklace contained twenty-five flat rubies of one to two karats each, a diamond and ruby clasp and filigree work studded with diamonds.

PLANE FORCED DOWN BY ENGINE TROUBLE

SHEPARD, N.B., July 29 (AP).—The seaplane carrying Dr. Alexander Forbes of Harvard University to Labrador for a mapping expedition was forced down here tonight by engine trouble.

Pilot Charles J. Hubbard said he probably will leave here tomorrow to go back to Rockland and install a new engine.

PASSENGERS ON EXPRESS SHOT

Japanese Report Derailing Of Train Followed by Deliberate Murder

TOKIO, July 30 (AP).—The Rengo (Japanese) News Agency correspondent reported today from Hsinking that Manchukuan bandits held up the Hsinking-Tumen express last night and murdered eleven or twelve passengers, mostly Japanese.

Among the murdered passengers were one Russian and four Manchukuan, believed mistaken for Japanese, the correspondent said.

The bandit gang, numbering sixty or seventy, pulled spikes from the track about fifty miles east of Hsinking, partially derailing the night express.

IN COLD BLOOD
When the train halted they entered the coaches with drawn revolvers, deliberately sought out the Japanese passengers, the correspondent reported, and immediately shot them down in cold blood.

The passengers killed were mostly from the second-class coaches.

An unknown number of persons were wounded. Among those most seriously injured by flying bullets were five Japanese and three Manchukuan.

GUARDS ARE KIDNAPPED
Twelve guards were reported kidnapped after putting up a vigorous defence against the attackers.

Japanese and Manchukuan troops were dispatched from Kirin and Hsinking in an effort to rescue the prisoners alive and capture the bandits.

C. C. F. and Socialist Party Will Operate Under One Executive

Arnold Webster Elected President at Joint Convention at Vancouver—Five-Point Platform Statement Is Adopted by Organization

VANCOUVER, July 29 (P).—Members of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and the Socialist Party of Canada will work in British Columbia under one executive as one unit during the ensuing year, their organization to be known as the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation (B.C.).

The merger was ratified by a decisive vote at the final session of a joint convention of the two parties which concluded early today. Arnold Webster, C.C.F. candidate in Vancouver-Burrard Dominion riding, was elected president.

A platform statement was adopted stated the C.C.F.:

1. Favors ownership of the means of life by the whole of society instead of by a small section.

2. Recognizes the necessity for orderly political action by an intelligent electorate.

3. Recognizes that a period of transition will intervene unless society is precipitated into a revolutionary condition.

SOCIAL OWNERSHIP

4. Proposes in the provincial field organizing the period of transition by substituting social for the present private ownership of industry wherever possible.

5. Recognizes the need for educational preparation for this revolutionary change.

Delegates insisted the new organization is not a "party" and refused to have the word "party" appear in its constitution. Proposals for formation of a "united front" with the Communist Party and for permission for C.C.F. units to affiliate with the league against war and fascism, which was declared to be dominated and controlled by Communists, were rejected by substantial majorities.

FAILS TO MEET APPROVAL

A rank and file movement to regulate the activities of C.C.F. members of Parliament, to deny them the right to sit on the federal executive committee and an individual resolution of non-judgment in the elected members did not meet with general approval of the conference, but evoked rejoinders from Rev. Robert Connell, M.P.P., Provincial leader, and Angus MacInnis, M.P.

"The sort of thing an elected representative has to put up with within the ranks of the C.C.F. is

A Lovely Country District Garden

V. Zellinsky, of Bamberton, last week for the sixth time won the first prize in the "best garden" competition annually created by the Bamberton Horticultural Society for the people of the locality. Bamberton lies on the steep slope of the mountain overlooking Finlayson Arm. It needs both ingenuity and real hard spade-work to make a garden of any size in such circumstances, but Mr. and Mrs. Zellinsky have achieved unusually happy results by creating a series of level grassy terraces, with intervening flowered "steps," both at the rear and in front of the house.

HALT DRIVE ON STATE ENEMIES

Repercussions in Foreign Countries Influence Nazi Leaders in Soft-Pedaling

BERLIN, July 29 (P).—Nazi chiefs today called off their drive on "State enemies." It was learned from a high source.

According to this source, the suppression of Jews and Catholics was ordered "soft-pedaled" because of repercussions of the Nazi drive in foreign lands.

The decision was reached after a hurried council at the mountain retreat of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler at Obersalzberg.

The leaders were told of inimical reactions abroad to moves against Jews, Catholics and the Silesians.

SPECIAL ATTENTION

Special attention was reported to have been paid to reactions in England, with whom Germany seeks to cultivate a great friendship.

Cognizance was taken also of the possible effect of the State's policies on the 1936 Olympic Games, on which Germany was banking strongly as an agency of successful propaganda as well as a favorable financial event.

Meanwhile, the Catholic world learned with sorrow of the sentencing in Hanau of Father Ludwig Roth to eight months imprisonment for declaring in his pulpit that "human life is worthless in the new Germany." The incident was added to the record being kept by Cardinal Bertram, of Breslau, to be shown at the conference of Catholic bishops at Fulda on August 16.

FIVE APPOINTED TO U.B.C. STAFF

A. F. Foreman Named Associate Professor of Civil Engineering By Board of Governors

VANCOUVER, July 29 (P).—The board of governors of the University of British Columbia tonight announced five appointments to the staff.

A. F. Foreman, B.Sc. (McGill), has been appointed associate professor of civil engineering to succeed E. G. Matheson, who has retired.

DeWitt M. Taylor, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been appointed associate professor of mechanical engineering, substituting for Dr. H. P. G. Letson, who is on leave of absence.

Other appointments include: Frank A. Forward, of Toronto, assistant professor of metallurgy; Stanley D. Lash, of Birmingham, England, instructor in civil engineering; and H. P. Archibald, of McGill, assistant in drawing.

EUROPEAN CROP ESTIMATE

ROME, July 29 (P).—Havas.—Estimates for Europe's grain crop indicate an abundant increase over 1934 harvest, a report of the International Institute of Agriculture said today. The wheat crop now is estimated at 440,000,000 quintals (about 1,628,000,000 bushels).

definitely to be carried out, political sources indicated.

Such a maximum programme may have been submitted to the German naval delegation during the recent conferences, but whether it is to be carried out on such a scale, to be modified or to be trimmed to normal, depends entirely on the international situation and outcome of negotiations with other naval powers on concrete programmes, now that the treaty restrictions are to lapse at the end of next year.

The programme reported by The Daily Herald would include twelve capital ships and thirty-three cruisers, with smaller craft.

New Plan Made for School Insurance Premium Charge

CITY schools will be re-insured for $90,000, 90 per cent. of their assessed value, the school board decided at a short business meeting yesterday afternoon.

Policies will be taken out with over fifty insurance companies with accredited agents here, and will range from one to five years. All premiums will be arranged so that they fall due on August 1 each year.

TWO ARRESTED FOR EXTORTION

Men Charged With "Demanding Money With Menaces" From Premier

LONDON, Ont., July 29 (P).—Henry M. Walker, fifty-four-year-old St. Thomas, Ontario, metal worker, was charged today with "demanding money with menaces to steal the same" from Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, of Ontario.

A similar charge was laid against Arthur Leakey, sixty, at St. Thomas. Crown Attorney Norman F. Newton, asking that the case against Walker, arrested last week, be remanded until a week from tomorrow, announced that the Crown would then be ready to proceed against both men. The remand was granted.

Six charges were laid against Walker, in two of which he was accused of attempting to get money from Premier Hepburn by threat. Leakey was charged jointly with Walker, the count reading "he did with menaces demand from Hon. M. F. Hepburn a sum of money with intent to steal the same."

Forty Warships IN "FLEET WEEK"

U.S. Navy Axis Sailors to Make "Dates" During Festivities in Seattle

SEATTLE, July 29 (P).—"Fleet Week" opened here today with forty warships in the harbor and an official naval "dining bureau" for the 32,500 officers and men on the ships and their friends, wives and mothers ashore.

For the girl friend he left behind him the evening before with an "I'll meet you at 7 on the postoffice steps" there's a ship-shore telephone and radio communication system by which she has only to telephone Garfield 7575 and dictate a reminder message to the visiting sailorman.

The message, transmitted under the watchful eye of Ensign Charles Blinnman, goes first to the cruiser Chester, and is relayed to whatever ship the visiting sailorman belongs.

MAN RELEASED FROM INSANE ASYLUM IS HELD AS MURDERER

SANFORD, Me., July 29 (P).—County Attorney Robert C. Seidel tonight charged Edward Hill, fifty-one, discharged last Saturday from the State Hospital for the Insane at Augusta, had been arrested and charged with the murder of his wife, Sarah, sixty-one, a former New Brunswick resident.

Mrs. Hill was believed at first to have died after a fall downstairs and Hill maintained he had found her lying at the foot of the stairs. Discovery of a bloodstained sock near the spot where Mrs. Hill's body was found led to her husband's arrest.

Nine Persons Meet Violent Deaths in B.C. Over Week-End

Five Lose Lives in Traffic Accidents on Mainland—Three Are Drowned and One Fatally Injured in Fall Into Excavation

VANCOUVER, July 29 (P).—British Columbia tonight counted its week-end toll of fatalities at nine. Five persons died in traffic accidents, three drowned and one was fatally injured after presumably falling into a twenty-five-foot excavation, unnoticed in the darkness.

Marjorie Battersby, John Dagher and Victor Kilby, all of Vancouver, were killed when the automobile in which they were returning from Boundary Bay, Wash., overturned in a ditch two miles south of the Canadian customs house on the old road leading to the Summer resort at midnight Sunday.

Mrs. Victor Kilby returned to her Vancouver home today after receiving treatment for cuts and bruises at the Ladder Hospital.

Kilby, who was driving, was killed instantly. Miss Battersby and Dagher died shortly after being taken from the wrecked car by residents of nearby cottages and motorists.

STRUCK BY CAR

Mrs. Dinah Newell, seventy-five-year-old resident of New Westminster, received fatal injuries when struck by a car after alighting from a motor bus at Griffith Avenue and Kingsway. George Godfrey, of Vancouver, is held on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the fatality.

Struck by a truck while cycling on the Grandview Highway, George Lang, of Burnaby, was almost instantly killed.

Thomas Dalsell, twenty-three, drowned or died from a heart attack while swimming at Spanish Banks. The body has not been recovered.

DROWNED IN FRASER

Stanley Seaton, eleven, of Steveston, was drowned while bathing in the south arm of the Fraser River. The body was recovered today.

Unable to swim, Guido Barsen, sixteen, of Trail, drowned when the canoe he was paddling was upset by rough water on the west arm of Kootenay Lake. The body was recovered.

William Tweed, his neck broken, was found in a twenty-five-foot deep excavation at Nelson. Tweed is believed to have fallen into the excavation which he apparently failed to see in the darkness Saturday night.

THREE CANDIDATES NAMED IN CALGARY

CALGARY, July 29 (P).—The Canadian Labor Party, at a nomination convention tonight, named three candidates to contest the six seats in Calgary constituency in the Alberta elections, August 22. The men named were Fred J. White, Typographical compositor; A. J. E. Lesmer, school trustee; and W. G. Southern, clerk. There were 126 votes cast.

Injured Climber May Have to Be Put in Plaster for Journey

Charles Woodworth, Hurt in Fall on Mount Assiniboine on Tuesday, Facing Two-Day Trip Over Mountain Trail to Banff

CALGARY, July 29.—Unaware that he might be placed in a plaster cast before being taken to Banff for treatment, Charles Woodworth, son of J. S. Woodworth, C.C.F. leader, tonight rested comfortably at the Alpine Club camp at the foot of Mount Assiniboine.

A graduate of the University of Manitoba, Woodworth injured his spine last Tuesday when he fell about thirty feet against jagged rocks while leading four mountain climbers down the north ridge of Mount Assiniboine. It could not be learned when the two-day trip over the mountain trails to Banff would start.

WANTED TO ATTEND
Miss M. Fawdry, of Calgary, eyewitness of the alpine rescue of young Woodworth last Tuesday, stated that last Friday the injured man had asked to be allowed to attend a campfire gathering.

While Mrs. Woodworth anxiously awaited at Winnipeg for word as to when her son would be brought to Banff, it could not be learned definitely whether he would be placed in a plaster cast from the hips to armpits before being moved. Dr. Canfield Beatty, attending Woodworth in the camp, thirty

Premier Will Open New Tennis Courts For Civil Service

PREMIER Pattullo will open the new tennis courts of the Civil Service Sports Club, on Superior Street, at 5:15 p.m. on Thursday, officials of the club announced yesterday. Two of a set of four courts are now ready, and will be in play after the formal opening this week. The remaining courts will be brought to completion later.

Coming down, having negotiated the ascent earlier in the day, and just as they seemed to be approaching the long snow slope that covers the mountain for three-quarters of its height, we saw both strings halt and converge. Presently we saw one party proceeding slowly alone and quite evidently in difficulty.

AN ARDUOUS RESCUE
The descent of the north ridge of Mount Assiniboine with the injured man was described here today by Miss M. Fawdry as one of the most arduous in alpine rescue history.

Miss Fawdry said Mr. Woodworth was knocked unconscious when, leading a party of four in the descent, he stepped on a loose rock and fell thirty feet before he hit on his head and hands. "The rocks just seemed to come up and hit me," she quoted the injured climber as saying when revived.

"We were sitting in our tent at the camp on Lake Macgo at the base of the mountain," she continued, "when we noticed that something was wrong on the mountain."

JUDGES WILL MAKE CHOICE

All Entries for Snapshot Contest to Be in Tomorrow Night

Those with prints eligible for The Daily Colonist amateur snapshot competition have until tomorrow night in which to send them to The Colonist office if they wish to include them in the July judging.

Judging for this month's entries will take place Thursday morning and the winners will be announced Friday. Any snapshots received after tomorrow night will be held over for the August judging.

Sponsored with the aim of finding the most interesting snapshots taken by Vancouver Island residents during the summer months, the contest has been open May, June and July. It will continue through August.

JUDGED ON MERITS
The fact that this competition is judged on merits of subject interest rather than that of photographic skill, has thrown it open to all, beginners and experienced photographers alike. Each month has shown a better entry list at the contest.

He was attended by the two physicians and Miss M. P. Hendrie, Calgary registered nurse.

JOURNALISTS OF CITY AT PICNIC

Some thirty-five members of the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Institute of Journalists and their friends joined in a delightful picnic and outing on the north end of Discovery Island Sunday.

Transportation to and from the island was provided through the courtesy of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, the power boat Thora, owned by Dr. B. E. Nickells, and the auxiliary yawl, Minerva, owned by Harry T. Barnes, being used.

Arriving at Discovery Island at noon, the gathering enjoyed seven hours of swimming and hiking around the island. A number visited the lighthouse, through which they were conducted by Percy Pike, the keeper.

H. C. MacCallum and Miss Muriel Richards were the conveners for the day.

VANCOUVER, July 29.—W. H. H. Hanbury, Liberal M.P. for Vancouver-Burrard, will not be a candidate in the coming Dominion election, he has informed Thomas Braithwaite, president of Vancouver Burrard Liberal Association, in a letter from Monte Lake, B.C. No reason was given for his retirement.

High Honor Is Won for Victoria

WILLIAM HARKNESS

WHO at last year's convention of the Pacific Coast Magicians' Association won the title of Dean of Pacific Coast sleight-of-hand magicians, has again brought honor to Victoria by winning the Hoffman Trophy at the convention held this year in Hollywood.

The Hoffman Trophy is one of the highest awards that can be won by a magician, and is in itself a tribute to the ability of the performer. It is given for consistently excellent performance throughout the convention, which makes it necessary for a delegate to be on his toes all the time with new tricks of a highly professional character.

Junk Dealers Claim Yacht Cup Defender

BRISTOL, R.I., July 29.—The path to glory traveled by a defender of the America's Cup, most highly prized of all yachting trophies, can be an amazingly brief journey to the scrap heap.

This fact was vividly emphasized tonight when Carl Haffner, general manager of the Herreshoff Company, which built Enterprise—a $400,000 investment—successful defender of 1930, confirmed her sale for a paltry $5,000, to Louis Lubchansky, of New London, Conn.

Mr. Lubchansky's interest in yachting is nil, but his interest in old metal considerable. He is engaged in what is commonly known as the junk business.

MURDER ENDS INDIAN PARTY

Westbank Indian Dies of Slashed Throat—Quarter-Breed in Custody

Edward Manuel, Westbank Indian, lies dead, and Albert McDougall, his quarter-breed Indian neighbor, is in custody charged with his murder, following a party at the McDougall home, just outside the Westbank Indian Reserve, on Saturday evening, Provincial Police said yesterday.

The party was held at the home of Albert McDougall and his brother, who with their wives and some others received Edward Manuel and his wife for a visit. The group assembled at 8 o'clock and some wine was produced. An altercation arose, as a result of which Edward Manuel slumped to the floor with his throat cut, dying. Death followed almost at once.

NOTIFIED POLICE

Members of the party telephoned a nearby storekeeper for the Provincial Police, who arrived at the scene about midnight. There the police found the body of Manuel, badly slashed about the throat and took two women and a boy into safekeeping as material witnesses.

Albert McDougall was arrested later and charged formally with the killing. Arraigned before a magistrate yesterday, he was remanded for trial after investigation has been completed. An inquest on the remains of Manuel was held. Inspector John Shirras reported the tragedy to headquarters of the force here yesterday.

PARKING CHANGES TO BE DISCUSSED
Public Works Committee of City Council Has Important Matters To Settle on Friday
Introduction of parallel parking on Douglas Street between Fort Street and Pandora Avenue, and on View Street between Government and Douglas Streets, will be discussed at a special meeting of the public works committee of the City Council on Friday afternoon.
The question of rezoning the northwest corner of Cook Street and Fairfield Road to a garage district will also be considered. The corner is sought by an oil company for erection of a service station, but the zoning committee recently could not find its way clear to recommend any change in regulations governing building in the area.
Mrs. Elizabeth Constance McKenzie, one of the residents in the vicinity who are opposed to erection of the station, yesterday wrote to the City Council that "ample service stations are already within a reasonable distance. A new station would spell disfigurement of the neighborhood and consequent depreciation of property value. An established residential quarter should be permitted to remain so."

Looking round the drawing-room. Mrs. McKenzie realized that many of her guests' dresses were extremely revealing.

She turned to the clergyman on the opposite side—"I am afraid," she said, "that some of the ladies' dresses are rather décolleté."

"Oh, I don't mind a bit," was the reply. "You see, I've been ten years in Africa—among the heathen, you know."

TAX ON TOUR PARTY CAUSES EXPRESSIONS OF INDIGNATION HERE

Indignation was expressed by directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau yesterday when they were informed that a party of botanists from the Middle States, on visiting this city recently, was forced to pay a provincial tax of $22.50 on the bus in which they were traveling. The party landed at Sidney in the morning and left Victoria in the afternoon for Port Angeles.

George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, explained he had communicated with the Attorney-General's Department and it was understood the money would be refunded. Mr. Warren was directed by the publicity bureau to communicate this information to members of the botanist party.

In future, tour parties of an educational nature will be permitted to come into the province free of such tax, the Attorney-General's Department also assured him, Mr. Warren said.

Directors declared the collecting of such a tax had been "terrible short-sightedness."

A down-at-heel old man presented himself at a hospital for dogs and cats, and asked the porter to take him in.

"You can't come in here," said the porter. "Oh, yes, I can," said the old man. "I'm an old soldier."

But that didn't make any difference," said the porter. "This is a veterinary hospital."

"That's right," said the old soldier serenely. "I'm a veteran."

LOSING TOURISTS

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company knows more about the tourist traffic in Canada than any other organization, and has done more to foster this industry. In view of the fact that efforts have been increased recently in the endeavor to add to the number of tourists visiting Canada, it is not pleasant to have to learn from Mr. H. F. Mathews, general manager of the Canadian Pacific hotel system, that there is a decline in the industry. Mr. Mathews believes the chief reason for this, perhaps the only reason, is because of the conditions of liquor control which do not permit the consumption of beers and wines with meals at hotels throughout the greater portion of Canada. Quebec, where such consumption is permitted, is benefiting proportionately to a greater extent from tourists than any other Province of the Dominion.

If this Province, as a Province, believes there is virtue in the tourist traffic it will have to alter its outlook. Visitors coming to British Columbia expect to enjoy here privileges of a similar character to those of their homelands. The outlook in the matter of the tourist industry has changed since the United States abandoned Prohibition. The people of that country have become accustomed to obtaining alcoholic beverages at their hotels and restaurants and they now regard this practice as a matter of course. It is from the United States that the vast majority of the tourists who visit Canada are drawn. The number is decreasing, because, as Mr. Mathews says, there is not the same freedom here as is enjoyed on the other side of the international boundary. Efforts made by different countries to attract tourists are intensely competitive. Canada at present labors under a definite handicap in this respect, and will continue to suffer until the facilities offered to visitors are at least equal to those obtaining in other lands.

The Quebec law of liquor control is the one that might well be the model for every Province of the Dominion. It has been advocated again and again in British Columbia, but politicians, seemingly, have lacked the courage to make it operate. The Province is definitely falling behind in its appeal to tourists, or else there would not be a decrease in the numbers coming here at a time when they are moving more freely than for some years. The question of removing the handicap to which Mr. Mathews draws attention is one that should engage the attention of the Provincial Government. We doubt, however, if it will until public pressure is brought to bear. That pressure should be intensified between now and the next session of the Provincial Legislature. The bringing into operation of what has become known as the Quebec Act in British Columbia is necessary to securing an increasing share of the tourist traffic.

"PLANNED ECONOMY"

Some politicians seeking seats in Parliament at the coming Federal election say that the only hope for Canada is the establishment of a "planned economy." They enunciate a curious doctrine which will, no doubt, be obediently accepted as gospel by the adherents of their cult. The doctrine is couched in the following language: "Genuine liberty for the masses of people is impossible without economic equality." There is an ex cathedra air of infallibility in this statement of political faith which invites consideration.

In a sparsely settled pioneering community in which the inhabitants can with severe labor secure only the bare necessities of life, each household presents an example of a "planned economy" on a small scale. Food and clothing are apportioned out to the several members of the family according to the wisdom of the house-mother. The oversight of the outdoor workers is the duty of the male parent. The activities of the household in production, on the side of "supply," to use the term in the technical sense, are planned and organized in strict accordance with the actual "demand," i.e., what the family needs and consumes. In this instance it is a condition of scarcity which imperiously calls for economic planning. In any condition of great scarcity, for example, in war time, rationing and price fixing may be necessary to check the greed or thoughtlessness of individuals, and some central authoritative planning is inevitable.

Economic planning by a powerful central authority can do something towards securing greater production, as long as the condition of scarcity continues. When that condition is succeeded by a condition of plenty, the master-planners find their occupation gone and their place taken by a force far more powerful and convincing than themselves. In an era of plenty, in a well-supplied market, the buyer can exercise choice, and does so in a manner all his own, according to a taste and fancy quite unpredictable by any central committee of "planners." In "good" times the producer needs no other incentive than the demand of the buyer, and this actual demand would certainly and effectively override the theoretical arithmetic of the master-planners. It would continue to operate in this way unless the master-planners were able to persuade or compel the buyer to accept and get along with those commodities which the planners in their wisdom instructed the producer to make or grow, and all at a fixed price. In such a system there is no choice left to buyer or producer. Neither is free to produce or to buy what he likes.

What kind of equality do the producers and consumers in such an "economy" possess? Perhaps by stretching the meaning of words it might be called an "economic equality." The inhabitants have secured this kind of equality by means of a simple expedient, namely by relinquishing their freedom of action in the matter of producing and consuming. In these matters they take their orders from the master-planners. They produce this "economic equality" at a price and the price is their freedom or liberty of action.

There seems to be no escape from the conclusion that economic equality of the kind mentioned

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

So far as we can find out, after meeting all sorts and conditions of men and select circles of women in public places and in clubs (private and social) the thought uppermost in the minds of all the people is: Will there be peace or will there be war? Every day we have been informed by the news of the day that the world is engaged in an absorbing game of bowls, and every night we have been stopped in the midst of an indoor game and asked if Mussolini is determined to fight and if the warrior descendant of the late King Solomon will return blow for blow or shot for shot. And the conclusion we have formed is that public opinion in the mass, which it professes to hope for peace, secretly hopes that it will be war, not only war in Africa, but war in Asia, with a glimmering hope that war will not be restricted, but European and general.

THE DAVIS CUP

In winning the Davis Cup for the third year in succession, Great Britain has very definitely established her supremacy in the lawn tennis world. Her victory, moreover, was achieved in the first three matches of the challenge round, and one of the wins, that in the doubles, was wholly unanticipated by the challengers. In fact, a full share in the honor must go to Messrs. G. P. Hughes and C. R. D. Tuckey for their win from Messrs. Allison and Van Ryn, as the latter are regarded as one of the greatest doubles combinations in the world. The Englishmen covered themselves with glory, and it is easily understood that at Wimbledon their achievement should have proved so popular.

Mr. F. J. Perry, the world's leading amateur, and possibly the best amateur of all time, is invincible on the courts when he is taking the game seriously. So many national championships have never been held before by one player as those now in the possession of Mr. Perry. He and Mr. H. W. Austin have been the key players in the Davis Cup series for the past three years, and have given back to Great Britain the lawn tennis supremacy that had fallen away from her for so long. As long as these two players retain their form and are available to play for their country the Davis Cup would appear to have a definite resting place. It has been retained this year more decisively than for a long period by virtue of the win of the British doubles pair.

SACRED OBLIGATIONS

Sir,—Re Dr. L. W. Cockburn's letter in your issue of Saturday last requesting an explanation of "bare-faced repudiation," which he alleges is implied in the quotation given from Mr. J. S. Woodsworth's manifesto. I do not presume inclusion in the category of "Christian gentlemen," to whom he addresses his request, but as my letter presumably precipitated the panic of self-preservation which prompted this appeal, I should like to suggest that the solution of a problem is often aided by working the problem backwards or turning it upside down. Thus, the antithesis of the sentiment implied by Mr. Woodsworth's statement would be: We (the workers, producers) are willing to allow ourselves forever to be held in the gutter by these so-called sacred obligations to bondholders, and in case of the private enterprise becoming jeopardized, we are willing to let them with as many millions of dollars' worth of our children's birthright as may be deemed necessary. This avows of "reductio ad absurdum." For any attempt to function in this fashion, the Golden Rule must be relegated to a vault with the Gold Reserve.

ONLY A DOG
Sir,—Only a dog to the ruthless driver of a bus (last Friday evening at 7:20 o'clock), but to us a very dear companion, a prize-winning golden cocker spaniel named "Prince."

The law tells us we have no redress because the dog wasn't on a lead. But little children are not on leads and they would have just the same chance of life at Yates, near Cook Street, where the speed maniacs "step on" taking no heed of anything in the way, and in this case didn't even stop to ascertain the damage.

SUNSHINE CAMP
Sir,—The "Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp" for mothers and children from underprivileged families played in Victoria in an exhibition match before the war. They performed for the benefit of Victorians at the Oak Bay links. . . . The longest race meet ever held in the city was for a sixty-day stretch. It was held nearly twenty-five years ago when things were really booming.—J.D.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY
(From The Daily British Colonist of July 30, 1885.)
Past Driving—Drivers in general, and butchers in particular, are in the habit of driving faster than the prescribed regulation, neither do they take the speed at the other end. Yesterday, a lady, accompanied by her children, had a narrow escape from being run over. The practice should be discontinued before serious results occur.

Pacific Coast Lumber Trade—The lumber trade on the Pacific Coast has been overtaken by a period of dullness. The lumber men have had four or five successive years. During the most of that time they have maintained a pretty stiff price for lumber through a combination extending to the whole coast. The result has been that the lumber trade has been depressed with a consequent loss of export of about $100,000,000. The price of the lumber has been depressed with a consequent loss of export of about $100,000,000. The price of the lumber has been depressed with a consequent loss of export of about $100,000,000.

The First Lord of the Admiralty took the first opportunity to expose the House of Commons the falsehood of a report that the British Government had rejected a German offer to abolish submarines. There would have been no need to deny a report so clearly and so fantastically if Mr. Lloyd George had not quoted it to the convention.

Flagship Detroit Visits Vancouver

VANCOUVER, July 29.—U.S.S. Detroit, flagship of Admiral Clark Woodward, commander of United States destroyers now in Puget Sound, arrived here today under Captain George M. Ravinscroft, for a four-day informal visit.

The vessel, a light cruiser type, has a complement of about 400 men and forty officers, including the admiral's staff.

A cow giving twenty pounds of milk daily requires approximately seven gallons of water.

Possibility of Life On Planets Not Big, Astronomer Thinks

Venus More Habitable Than Mars, Says A. I. Deacon, Addressing Summer Study Group of Astronomical Society at Victoria College

IF human life, as it is known here, exists on any of the planets it is very much more likely to be on Venus than on any of the others, owing to the similarity of conditions to those on our earth, A. I. Deacon, of the Dominion wireless staff here, informed the keenly interested audience gathered at Victoria College last evening for the Summer study club series sponsored by the Astronomical Society.

Two speakers, Mr. Deacon and W. Burton, of the Observatory staff, contributed the feature talks of the interesting programme, the former telling about Venus and Mars, the latter speaking of Jupiter and Saturn. Miss Riddle, however, prefaced the proceedings by another of her clever little talks on the constellations and how to find them in the sky. Also, before the principal addresses were given, Commander Tingley, vice-president, welcomed back the president, W. Boyd Brydon, who had been absent for some weeks owing to illness.

DISTINCT CHARACTER

Individual character, it was shown, distinguished the planets Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter. Just as in mythology Venus was the most beautiful of the goddesses, so in astronomy Venus is the most beautiful of the planets, Mr. Deacon said. Distant 67,000,000 miles from the sun, it is 7,700 miles in diameter and makes its revolution round the sun in 225 days. So far as known, it has no satellites. Owing to the density of its atmosphere, no definite markings can be seen on its surface, so it has been impossible to determine its period of rotation. It is rotated in the same way as the earth it might have similar conditions.

Lantern slides illustrated some aspects of Venus in relation to the sun and earth, and it was stated that it would attain its greatest brilliancy this season next Saturday, August 3. Its last transit across the sun occurred in 1882, and its next transit will not be until 2004. A photograph taken at the time of the last transit showed the luminous surrounding atmosphere.

PLANET MARS

Mars, 142,000,000 miles distant, was the most interesting of the planets, and Mr. Deacon discussed briefly, with the aid of photographs and drawings, the so-called "canals" and polar ice caps. If life existed on Mars it would be different from that on the earth, owing to the intense cold of the Winters. In mass, Mars was one-ninth that of the earth, and its specific gravity two-fifths. There were two satellites, very small, Deimos and Phobos, the latter making its revolution in about seven hours, as compared with the twenty-seven and a quarter days required by our moon to go round the earth. Deimos made its revolution in a little over thirty hours. Mars' time of revolution was 686.98 days. Although there was a marked similarity between the earth and Mars, the seasons of the latter were nearly twice as long, whereas the temperature on a Summer day on Mars would be about the same as here, but the Winters would be infinitely colder. Whether life existed on Mars, whether it was inhabited or not, were matters of pure speculation. Mr. Deacon, nevertheless, passed on Lowell's claims concerning the theory of "canals" and man-made vegetation on this planet.

JUPITER AND SATURN

Saturn, distinguished by its unique system of rings and satellites, and Jupiter, the largest of the planets, distinguished by its belts and cloud-like features, were briefly described by Mr. Burton.

The broad band of Jupiter was about 10,000 miles in width, and there were other narrower belts. Its mean distance from the sun was 483 million miles, or more than five times more distant than the earth, from which it was distant 390 million miles. Its volume was 1,300 times that of the earth, its density, 2.42; its mass, 318 times greater. An interesting description of its nine satellites, the first four of which were discovered by Galileo in 1610, was given. All nine shining together would not give Jupiter more than one-sixteenth the light that our moon gives the earth.

Saturn's unique form, a great central globe surrounded by three great concentric rings, was indicated in pictures thrown on the screen. Its time for rotating was just a little over ten hours, meaning but five hours of daylight and five of darkness in a day. Its volume was 765 times that of the earth; density 1.3 that of the earth; less than water, and the visible surface was not solid, but vaporous, concealing a view of the solid planet, if there was any solid planet. Satellites numbered ten, all brilliant, but giving only six times the light of our moon.

PRESS SERVICE HAS NO PROFIT

St. John Newspaper Comments on Work of National Organization

SAINT JOHN, N.B., July 29.—Under the caption, "The Canadian Press Service," The Telegraph-Journal says editorially: "The Canadian Press is holding its annual meeting in Winnipeg. That may not convey much to some readers, yet it should mean a great deal to all. The Canadian Press serves the Dominion in general and each and every newspaper reader individually in a way no other association does. Imagine the country without news at all, or imagine it with small sheets containing almost exclusively local news and little or nothing outside that. The whole of our social system would be thrown into confusion and would soon revert to primitive conditions. Be it remembered that it is The Canadian Press which enables the newspapers to give their readers a prompt and proper widespread news service."

NO DIVIDENDS
"It must not be thought that The Canadian Press is an organization earning large dividends for stockholders. It is nothing of the kind. The Canadian Press makes no profits. It is fundamentally the association of all Canada's newspapers, throwing all the news they collect into a pool that others may share, dividing the cost of obtaining and distributing news from every part of the world not covered by the reporters or correspondents of Canadian newspapers. Thus in the newspaper field all benefit from one another's activities, and for the rest, all co-operate, but there are no profits to be divided. Why, it may be asked, is this done? To improve the service Canadian newspapers wish to give to their readers. It provides a lesson in co-operation and service that may well be noted at this time, when there is so much talk of control of this and of that."

REINCARNATION

Sir.—In arguing for or against evolution we should not forget that man is more than his physical body, and even if this was the product of evolutionary processes stretching over countless ages, and whereas physically he may be said to have reached the climax, there is yet the other three-fourths—the most important and essential part of him, still undergoing evolution.

If we could only view evolution in the light of Karma and Reincarnation—the twin-laws governing all manifested life—we would see how little consequence is the physical form and its reputed origin of animal descent. Mistaking the body for the man, we fail to see his Divine origin, and therewith the purpose of his repeated incarnation in matter.

The eternal pilgrim, pursuing its long and weary journey, pushed on by the evolutionary wave, is the higher ego in man. Even the animal ego and all lower lives are potentially both human and Divine. Descending to the very dregs of matter the ego has at length reached self-consciousness in man. Plane after plane it has unfolded, and is destined still to unfold its potencies and possibilities.

Reincarnation not only reveals the destiny of man and reveals evolution apprehensible, but it also explains satisfactorily the differences among personalities and the meaning of all our trials and vicissitudes in life.

Seen in the true light, evolution, far from weakening the faith in true religion, helps the seeker to understanding. ALFRED FLEISCHER, Box 183, Duncan, B.C., July 27, 1935.

"The public mind can easily be persuaded to adopt policies which mean war."—Sir Norman Angell.

Large Portion Of Engine Goes Through Roof

SALT LAKE CITY, July 29.—The engine of Clyde Freeman's airplane came apart above Salt Lake City today. A rocket box from a cylinder head hurtled downward nearly 2,000 feet and crashed through the roof of the residence of George C. West, narrowly missing thirteen-year-old Barbara West in its swift passage through the dining-room.

Freeman brought the plane to a safe landing at the airport a half hour later.

PEASANT ARMY VISITS RULER

Fifty Thousand Danes Carry Complaints to King Camping in Courtyard

COPENHAGEN, July 29 (AP).—The army of peasants which marched on the King's palace to deliver its demands for relief prepared to return home today upon the Government's promise of help.

Until Prime Minister Theodore Stauning received their deputation and assured them the Cabinet would consider their plight, the peasants squatted in the courtyard of Amalienborg Palace.

Their ranks estimated at 50,000, they muttered a threat of a farm strike and expressed a determination not to move until the Premier heard their case.

ADDRESS BY KING
King Christian addressed them from a balcony and expressed hope their justifiable complaints might be remedied. He reminded them of his position of constitutional monarch and exhorted them to Premier Stauning.

They cheered the King, but refused to move. When Stauning declined to make any promises, involving, it was said, removal of politicians from administrative posts, especially in agricultural departments, they drew up a resolution of their demands.

Some of the participants in the march, who were recruited from farmhands throughout Denmark, unobtrusively wore the swastika of Germany and the hammer and sickle of the Soviet.

TOURIST TRADE IS STILL GOOD

Mayor David Leeming Says Victoria Reaping Benefit of Publicity Bureau's Work

While other cities in the Pacific Northwest report tourist traffic not up to expectation, or below that of last year, Victoria had experienced, up to the end of June, a 16 per cent increase over the same term in 1934, and there was every indication that this year the city would have a 35 per cent increase over the entire travel last year, according to Mayor David Leeming, speaking to directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau yesterday.

He attributed the continued growth in tourist traffic on the Island to the constant and vigorous efforts of the bureau.

One black mark existed, however, he said, it was the condition of the roads. "Our roads are driving our own people out of the province during their holidays," he declared. Victoria has friends everywhere, Mayor Leeming said, and recounted several conversations he had recently with officials in cities in the United States.

ELECTROLUX Gas REFRIGERATORS For Convenience. B. C. ELECTRIC

How SAFE DRIVING Saves You Money

WHEN we jam down on the accelerator and dash pell-mell ahead in traffic, we are not only taking a chance—but also wasting gasoline! When we streak along the highway at an excessive speed, we are not only breaking the law—but also paying extra for our trip because high speeds waste gasoline! When we slam down the brakes to a jarring, squealing stop we waste gas, too—the gas we used up to create the momentum which makes such cruel punishment of the brakes necessary.

Gasoline is such an item in our motoring that it would pay us all, in savings and safety, to realize that we really don't use gas by the mile at all... we use it by the foot we keep on the accelerator pedal!

ECONOMY matches SAFETY

in General Motors Cars

ONE of the remarkable things about the new General Motors cars is that in spite of being twice as powerful as the models of only a few years ago—they actually cost you less to run!

It's all the result of General Motors' ability to make economy keep in step with progress.

Our engineers build down-draft carburetors into General Motors cars—to get greater power without using extra gas. They have designed "knockless" engines with high-compression—because that is another modern way of obtaining premium performance, without paying extra for fuel.

We could go on and mention a score of other ways in which a General Motors car saves you money—on gasoline—on oil—on upkeep. But the best thing to say is, "Talk to a friend who owns one and find out for yourself."

Announcements

Superfluous Hair on the face is admittedly the most hideous feminine blemish. Women very rarely speak of this disfigurement, but secretly and anxiously try every promised cure they see advertised, only to find to their sorrow that the growth is but aggravated by their use. Electrolysis alone is the safe and permanent cure and this is one advertisement which is absolutely true. Women who earnestly desire to find the truth will recognize it. To Biffin was delegated the honor of presenting the vacuum cleaner, purchased by the staff as a gift of esteem to Miss Dimpie, the typist, who was leaving the office upon the near approach of her marriage. Biffin rose, blushed nervously, and said: "On behalf of my colleagues and myself, I congratulate you, Miss Dimpie, and beg you to accept this little gift, and we hope that as you employ it to free your home from unwanted dirt and litter, you will be reminded of your old friends at the office."

ASKS TO BE GIVEN TRIAL

Dr. A. G. Hall Wants to Be Charged With Perjury as Result of Findings

TORONTO, July 29 (AP).—Dr. A. G. Hall, one of the chief witnesses at the Royal Commission inquiry into charges against Inspector J. D. Dawson, of Kingston Penitentiary, communicated with Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, tonight, asking that he (Hall) be placed on trial for perjury.

Judge E. J. Daly, the commissioner who heard charges made by Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P., for South-east Grey, that Inspector Dawson had used abusive and profane language concerning her, exonerated the inspector and declared some of the evidence given by Hall was "false."

CHARGES INTERFERED

Dr. Hall, in his letter to the minister, charged departmental interference had been permitted at the inquiry. He declared Judge Daly's report ignored evidence which he claims was of vital importance.

Dr. Hall said he was aware there was no appeal from a Royal Commission and he sought this means of "testing" the report before a jury. New witnesses would be heard if a trial was held, he said.

SAYS RULING CHANGED

"The whole conduct of this inquiry from its very inception has reflected the interference of your departmental officers, who even sought to and succeeded in inducing the commissioner to change a ruling some hours after it had gone into effect, when that ruling made a concession of fairness to myself," Hall's letter said.

"In the face of these facts, I cannot permit the report to pass without offering to stand trial in an effort to place the report and its implications under the imperial scrutiny of a jury," the letter concludes.

ARE SEARCHING FOR MISSING PROSPECTOR

CHILLIWACK, B.C., July 29 (AP).—Police Sergeant H. W. King and Game Warden Arthur Butler are in the hope area searching for "Curly" Hall, prospector of the "Old Settler" Mountain region, who has been missing since July 18.

WARDEN TO REPORT

WINNIPEG, July 29 (AP).—Deputy Warden J. Harroway, of Kingston Penitentiary, transferred to the Stony Mountain, Man., institution after last Spring's riots, was en route to Ottawa tonight, where he will report on his observations on the riotous conditions in Manitoba.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 29.—New York notables are not always to be seen in the flashy or exclusive restaurants. There are, of course, the opulent strivers who fill much space in the social chit-chat columns and are classed as "safe subjects." They are always in the tony spots.

But almost every celebrity has his private haunts, usually some plain and neat kitchened place off the traveled trails where the proprietor may do the cooking and his wife the serving. Where the service is leisurely but instinctive for cuisine strong.

The Paul Whiteheads are frequently diners at Schrafft's. Also Amelia Earhart. Earl Carroll favors a Chinese place, Chow Mein. Mrs. Raymond Hitchcock entertains in American style. The story was told of a Japanese favorite in Fifty-Seventh Street. Floyd Gibbons likes owl wagons for midnight snacks. Joe Cook, Chill Villa.

Leon Gordon loses parties at the Italian Del Pezzo up a rickety stair. The William Gaxtons are regulars at a Spanish spot in Sheridan Square. The Isaac Marcossians prefer a German kitchen in Yorkville. John Boetticher, the President's son-in-law, frequents a three-tabled place in rear of a French delicatessen.

A bleak desolation stagnates Fifth Avenue after 5 in the evening. Aside from the occasional night watch or chance stranger, it is lifeless. For years it was the 4 to 11 promenade, the heart of the city. Today some stores do not light their windows, so scant is the parade. And the breathless architectural grandeur of Radio City has saved the avenue by day. It was slowly sinking when the Rockefeller threw the life-line.

Karl Harriman, so long an editor of magazines, has in retirement finally found opportunity to satisfy an ambition that tagged his heels since youth. He is directing plans and acting in them in one of the red barn enterprises in Vermont. It was Harriman who gave Eddie Querst his first rhyming book and started him on his way. Now, strangely enough, in maturity they look like twins.

A full stop in Manhattan skyscrapers seems at hand. On the site of the old New York Theatre, one of Broadway's choicest corners, there is a two-count 'em two-story building. On the old Hammerstein Theatre site a modest structure goes up. Six years ago such sites would have out-empired the Empire State Building itself. Not many buildings under construction are more than four stories, mostly two. This type, when finished, is quickly filled. Taxes are lower, and rents, too. Many believe there will not be another thirty-story building this decade. Of the next.

Rupert Hughes' oration at the bier of his long-time friend, Ray Long, is reputed to have been one of the most masterly talks he ever delivered in a career of distinguished oratory. He was talking to a group of twenty sorrowful writers who had felt the touch of genius Long displayed in guiding the work.

Dick Berlin tells of the old ship captain dining at one of the restaurants off West Street. After the chicken soup he asked what it was. He was told, "I've been sailing on it for forty years," he said, "and never knew it before."

Police Find Boy—Charles Devine, three and one-half years old, 1441 Walnut Street, was found by Constable Wally Andrews lost on the corner of Fort Street and Richmond Road at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The boy was the guest of Sergeant George Varney at the Police Station until claimed by his father four hours later.

Here From Brazil—Despite reports, the average grower of cotton and coffee in Brazil enjoys life, W. Lamington, of Nova Danzig, Brazil, said yesterday at the Strathcona Hotel. He is a visitor from Houston, Texas, to visit his father, William Arthur Lamington, 1112 Langley Street, whom he has not seen in fourteen years.

Proud of Record—Eight years, without being once late or absent from school is the proud record made by Steven Bailey, son of Dr. W. H. Bailey, of the Provincial Police. Thirteen years of age now, Steven passed into High School from the Willows School in June, holding a string of letters of honor for his punctuality and unfailing attendance. Mr. Bailey said yesterday.

Automobile Overturns—When the automobile in which she was driving with her husband, Major K. B. Spurgeon, overturned at the intersection of Richmond Road and Chandler Avenue, Sunday, following a collision with a car driven by Harry Knight, 337 Foul Bay Road, Mrs. Spurgeon suffered minor bruises and a severe shaking up. She was taken to her home at 3455 Richmond Road.

Arion Club Concert—This evening at 8:15 o'clock, at the bandstand in Beacon Hill Park, the Arion Club will give its annual open-air concert. The collection will be in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children, at Mill Bay. During the intermission W. M. Langman, president of the Solarium, will speak on the "AIMS" objects and work accomplished by this well-known charitable institution.

Foresters' Picnic—The Ancient Order of Foresters held a successful picnic on Sunday at Goldstream Park. Buses left the A.O.F. Hall at 10 a.m. for the scene of the outing, returning at 8 p.m. Upwards of thirty members, their children and friends attended. The horseback pitching was well patronized, six hours being required to complete the contests. A good programme of sports was staged and all had a very pleasant outing.

Will Probated—The will of Alma Victoria Rattenbury, found dead at Christchurch, England, recently, was admitted to probate in British Columbia courts this week. The will was dated December 18, 1929, and divided her estate between Christopher C. Pakenham Rattenbury and John Rattenbury, of 5 Manor Road, Bournemouth, England. Assets were given as $1,602, and liabilities as $1,975. Succession duties in British Columbia were waived.

Cars Collide—Automobiles driven by George Bone, 132 Regina Avenue, and M. Ishida, 738 Fisgard Street, collided on the corner of Quadra and Johnson Streets at 6 o'clock last evening. The Ishida machine was spun around in a circle and turned completely over. Mr. Ishida sustained a lacerated right forearm and was treated at the Police Station by Constable Wally Andrews. K. Yamashita, 738 Fisgard Street, a passenger, escaped with bruises.

New Welcome Bureau—A bureau to send out letters of welcome to all new residents in the city has been established by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. Names of all new-comers are obtained by the bureau, and then letters are written to them. Besides a note of welcome, a request is enclosed that the receiver send the bureau the names of friends in his former city who might be interested in receiving information about Victoria.

New Station—Standard Stations, Ltd., of Vancouver, yesterday took out a building permit for erection of a $4,000 service station on Douglas Street, opposite the City Hall. Luney Bros., Ltd., will erect the building, which will be of reinforced concrete, similar to the station built next to the Dominion Hotel. The old Commercial Hotel, on the site of the new station, has been demolished to the ground floor and is rapidly disappearing in the hands of wreckers.

Oxford Group—An open meeting for men in the Oxford Group will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Tom Dalzell, 435 Richmond Avenue. On Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock an open mixed meeting will take place at the home of Mary Haslam, 1009 Cook Street. There will be an open-air mixed meeting on Sunday at 3 p.m. outside Christ Church Cathedral, where a team of witnesses will be welcomed at these gatherings.

Commission Renamed—Launched by a former Minister of Education, Joshua Hinchcliffe, the British Columbia commission for the education of soldiers' dependent children was renamed yesterday for a further term. Dr. S. J. Willis, Superintendent of Education, is chairman, assisted by Lieutenant-Colonel W. S. Buell, Canadian Legion; Captain C. F. L. Money, Army and Navy Veterans in Canada; and J. A. Perry, Amputations Association. The commission sits as an honorary, unpaid body, and advises on the distribution of small monthly grants to assist veterans' children through school.

Bride and Groom Will Make Their Home Here

Mr. Patrick J. Mulcahy, of Esquimalt, Married to Miss Dorothy May Kieser at St. Paul's Church, Vancouver, Saturday Evening

An unusually pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Vancouver, on Saturday evening, when Rev. Canon Harold King, assisted by Rev. George Calvert, rector of St. Matthew's Church, Winnipeg, cousin of the groom, united in marriage Dorothy May Kieser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kieser, of Chilliwack, to Mr. Patrick Joseph Mulcahy, youngest son of Major and Mrs. A. Mulcahy, of Esquimalt.

LOVELY BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of deep ivory imported Brussels lace, made on long moulded lines, the skirt flaring into a graceful train. The high neckline was finished in cowl effect, and the sleeves were long, tight-fitting at the wrist and pointed over her hands. Her veil of exquisite deep ivory tulle covered the entire dress train and fell from a coronet of orange blossoms, which had been worn by her great-grandmother, her grandmother and her mother on their wedding days. The one note of color contrast was introduced in the shower bouquet of Rapture roses carried by the bride.

THE ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Frank Kieser, sister-in-law of the bride, was maid of honor, and the groom's sister, Miss Kathleen Mulcahy, was bridesmaid, both wearing frocks of Marina blue lace with long sleeves and wide sashes of coral velvet tying in a bow at the back with long sash ends. The dress clips were of coral and brilliants, and their hats of stitched organza, blue lace mittens and coral silk sandals completed their charming toilettes. Their bouquets were in harmonizing pastel shades.

Little Master Teddy Kieser, nephew of the bride, was the ring-bearer, and Dr. Arthur Poyntz, of Esquimalt, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Frank E. Kieser and Mr. Edwin Sanders, of Victoria. While the register was being signed, Miss Ella Whitecross sang "My Prayer," the organ accompaniment being played by Mr. George Bullen.

RECEPTION HELD

A reception was held later at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Hewitt, 2505 West Twenty-Sixth Avenue, which had been lent for the occasion. Assisting the bride and groom in receiving were Mrs. Kieser and Mrs. Mulcahy and also Mrs. Bellward, godmother of the bride. Mrs. Kieser wore a smart green and black chiffon gown with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of Joanna Hill roses. Mrs. Mulcahy was in a becoming gown of black chiffon with net sleeves heavily appliqued with lace and a black mohair turban and shoulder corsage bouquet of gardenias. Mrs. Bellward was in a rich black velvet gown and hat en suite, also wearing a corsage bouquet of roses.

Presiding at the tea urns were

Weavers' Guild Is Encouraging Art in England

By JOAN LITTLEFIELD

(Copyright, 1935, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

LONDON, July 29.—The arts of spinning and weaving are still practised in the England of 1935, and the Guild of Weavers, Spinners and Dyers holds an annual Summer School, which this year will take place at Ditchling in Sussex, from August 1 to 14.

The subjects taught include not only the preparation, spinning and dyeing of the wool, elementary and advanced warping, and weaving on an elementary loom, but the actual setting up of a four-shaft loom and advanced forms of weaving, from tapestry and carpets to the finest pure silk woven on a draw-loom.

FORMED IN 1931

The guild was formed in 1931 with about half a dozen members in Kent. Now the movement has spread until it has 150 members in all parts of England, and also in the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

Miss Dawson, the honorary secretary of the guild, said it was established solely for educational purposes and to raise the standard of hand-weaving. Each member learns the craft throughout, even to the making of the loom.

"We are trying," she stated, "to get away from the coarseness of the peasant type of weaving and to encourage only the best work. Naturally, our materials, when finished, are expensive, but they are lasting. People who delight in originality, both in dress materials and in furnishing fabric and carpets, come to us. Modern weavers are always experimenting and evolving something new."

ENGAGEMENTS

DUNCAN—BARKER

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barker, George Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Constance, to Mr. Bernard Joseph Duncan, son of Mr. R. A. Duncan, of Ker Avenue, and of the late Mrs. Duncan. The wedding date will be announced later.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL

The members of the Cathedral A.Y.P.A. were hosts at a delightful dance at McMoran's Pavilion, Cordova Bay, on Friday evening. This dance was the second of a series of three to be held during the summer months, the next and last being arranged for the last Friday of August. A bus which left the Memorial Hall at 8:30 p.m. provided transportation to and from the dance.

C.G.I.T. NOTES

CAMP

The Canadian Girls' Training Camp at Glin Lake, in the Sooke Hills, was visited by a large number of parents and friends on Saturday, which was set aside as visitors' day. Unfortunately, the weather was not particularly fine and it was impossible for the girls to present the programme which they had arranged for the entertainment of the visitors. However, a very pleasant informal afternoon was spent, and tea was served to the deputation.

On Saturday evening the girls held their "stunt night," which proved to be one of the most outstanding events of camp so far. There are twenty-seven girls in camp this year and they all appeared to be very enthusiastic about the new Y.M.C.A. camp site. They have done a good deal of hiking and have broken many new trails around the lake's edge.

On Sunday a delegation of the officials of the C.G.I.T. movement visited the camp, accompanied by Mrs. Cushing, the new general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., who conducted the Sunday morning service. The service being held in a beautiful valley in the hills, she appropriately took as her text, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills."

In addition to Miss Margaret Ryan, the director, the camp staff is composed of Mrs. Maude Hammond, who takes the interest groups in dramatics and singing; Miss Nellie Cameron, who specializes in campcraft and woodcraft; Miss Margaret Daver, who acted as camp nurse; Miss Wilena Graham, the junior leader and assistant in the dramatic group; Miss Dorothy Humphries, the camp assistant, and Mrs. Norris, who is with the girls again this year as cook. The camp will break up on Friday, August 2.

Sidney

Miss Dorothy Fitcher, of Vancouver, is holidaying at Deep Cove.

Mrs. W. Smith and Miss Helen Smith, of Vancouver, are visiting friends in Sidney.

Mrs. J. Gilman is visiting friends in Vancouver.

Mrs. P. O'Neill and her daughter, Peggy, of Vancouver, are guests of Mrs. M. Holm, of East Saanich Road.

Mr. Walter Touzeau has returned from an inspection tour of Up-Island, pending his appointment with his work at the Dominion Plant Pathology Laboratory.

Woman: Does your husband kick about the meals?

Other Bride: Player smilingly: No, what he kicks about is having to get them.

Encouragement may discourage him.

Worried: I think the young man would like to go to California, or on some other adventure. Why try to stop him? You'll only be building up sorrow for yourself. Never mind about the pictures. After all, they are just cardboard.

The next time you see the boy, sing "California, here I come."

And send a good laugh along with it. There's no use trying to stop a man who is on his way. Urge him along, and nine times out of ten he'll stop of his own accord. If he doesn't, it's destiny, and there is nothing you can do about it. Because it's your destiny, too, and life has something more worth while in store for you.

Allies Chapter

The Allies Chapter, I.O.D.E., held its annual dance on Friday at the Deep Cove Community Hall. The room was tastefully decorated in an original design of a pleasure boat. The tables also conformed to a ship's dining room. It was indeed a nautical dance in every way. The orchestra was so much appreciated that an extra hour was requested by those enjoying the dance. The hall was filled to capacity and the dance was pronounced by all as a great success.

DIDN'T WANT FREEDOM

LONDON (AP) — Determined to serve seven days' imprisonment for exceeding the speed limit, Miss Fay Taylor raised vigorous objection when somebody paid her fine, but she was chivalrous from jail.

Jane Dixon Says:

THE MAN WHO GOES OUT SEARCHING FOR A WIFE WHO MUST QUALIFY AS TO AGE AND WEIGHT, IS LOOKING FOR A NEEDLE IN A HAYSTACK.

The week's wash—

Let's hang it on the line.

Still Hopeful: You both took what you believed to be the better way. It's not easy, I know, but it is as straight as you can make it. I hope she knows about your loyalty and your love. If she doesn't, please hand her this bit from the column. I'm sure it will help her to carry on. Sorry, but it is against the policy of this department to grant oral interviews. If there is anything I can do for you by letter, please write to me. I have a hunch that so long as you have both done your best, your paths will meet.

Unknown: So you want a woman who will be a good mother to your two almost grown children, and a good wife to you. She ought to be between thirty and thirty-five. You even specify her weight—but let's not go into that.

My dear Unknown—you are looking for a needle in a haystack. The women I know do not take on strange men with their families, with a qualification of years and of weight.

Why don't you look for a regular woman and forget the specifications.

You'll be pretty lucky if you find her.

Troubled: Wait forgets about you. Why don't you do a bit of forgetting about Wait? I think he would welcome it. He's fond of sports. I have letters from loads of boys who ask me the same questions about girls. Maybe you live in a necking and petting section. Why don't you go in for changing the climate? If you girls are as intelligent and as regular as you appear, I'm gambling that you'll make history in your area.

Wait is your good friend. Catalogue him in your life on the basis, and omit the love stuff until you have some encouragement for it.

M.C.—Keep your mother with you, but be firm about your own family life. Make her understand she is a guest in your house, not a dictator. My mother lived with me several years after my marriage, and the hole she left in our home when she went West cannot be filled. Never mind about the brothers and sisters if you are able to carry on. Their lack of appreciation of their mother will be their loss. Remember she belongs to another generation. Respect that generation, but act on your own.

Disillusioned: If you four girls will stick to your guns you'll have a lot of luck. You ask me if any decent fellows still exist—fellows who will take you out without a tribute of necking and petting. Sure they exist. I have letters from loads of boys who ask me the same questions about girls. Maybe you live in a necking and petting section. Why don't you go in for changing the climate? If you girls are as intelligent and as regular as you appear, I'm gambling that you'll make history in your area.

Mrs. Helen Hornley: Don't be filled with fear. Keep up your prayers and your courage. Try to discover what the people around you need: home-made food; a bakery in your own home; home-made pies and cakes; muffins; ginger-sake. A woman I know pulled herself out of the swamp by making the best gingerbread I've ever tasted. Inexpensive and delicious. You're fortunate to have that son in C. He apparently is a fine young man. I'm sure he'll be successful and that he will share his success with you as he has been sharing his pay. Why don't you get a good bag of twenty enlist in some Federal service if he is physically able? Army, navy or marine corps. Such service would benefit him and would enable him to help you. It's very bad for young men to be rattling around loose these days. Please tell me if you are in more desperate straits.

Encouragement may discourage him.

Worried: I think the young man would like to go to California, or on some other adventure. Why try to stop him? You'll only be building up sorrow for yourself. Never mind about the pictures. After all, they are just cardboard.

Expert Says Children Benefit by Hot Meals

Advices against allowing children to eat ice cream or consume iced drinks between meals—Hot weather recipes.

By EDITH M. BARBER

Every once in a while I am asked what foods are "heating." This information is requested by someone endeavoring to regulate his food in a way that will make it possible to live comfortably through the warm weather. When I answer that hot foods are burned or consumed in the body as we need them to create energy, but that some produce special heat, the questioner usually protests that he always understood that meat and oatmeal were more heat-producing than other foods. I do not know why these two foods should be picked out for this conclusion. Oatmeal is not served as much in warm weather simply because it is served hot, and older persons often prefer uncooked prepared cereal, which does not give the impression of heat. But children are accustomed to hot cereal for breakfast, and usually like it just as well in Summer as in Winter. There are a few simple facts that the menu planner needs to keep in mind. Children need a hot dinner in Summer as well as in Winter. The simple dessert may be cool, and ice cream may be served occasionally, but it should be eaten slowly. Children should not be allowed to eat ice cream or to drink soda "pop" or other cold drinks between their meals. They should not drink ice water with their meals, as cold food and drink slow down digestion, which, in the small stomach of a child, may cause an upset.

Berries should be given to children with discretion—first a few at a time—and with careful observation of the child's reaction. Berries are irritating to the tender digestive tract of the young child. Be sure that other fruit is ripe, but not over-ripe. An overdose of either green apples or of over-ripe peaches, which provide a fertile field for bacterial growth, may cause an attack of indigestion. Fresh green vegetables should be served both raw and cooked. The raw vegetables should be finely minced. Very often they are more appealing served in sandwiches. Shredded lettuce, raw spinach, grated carrots, or minced cabbage is good this way. Among the cooked vegetables, it is wiser to exclude corn from the menu, as it is not tolerated by most children. If corn is rubbed through a sieve it may be eaten without bad effects. Gelatine for salads and desserts is a favorite dish among most children. This is a good medium for introducing raw fruits and vegetables into the meal. Remember, however, that gelatine spoils quickly in warm weather.

CHOCOLATE BAVARIAN CREAM
1 1/2 cups cold water
2 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup salt
2 squares chocolate
1 cup coconut
1 cup whipping cream
Soak the gelatin in water. Place the milk, sugar, salt and chocolate in a four or five pieces, in the top of a double boiler and cook until the chocolate is melted. Beat with a wheel egg beater a few seconds to insure smoothness. Add the gelatin and stir until dissolved. Remove from the fire, stand in cold water, stir occasionally, and when it begins to thicken, fold in the coconut and the whipped cream. Pour into a mold, chill, and when set, serve with whipped cream.

Gladys Glad On Beauty

Although the average girl does not realize it, many of the cinema stars in Hollywood have their figure problems just as non-professional girls do. But Alice Faye seems to be one who doesn't have to worry much about her weight. Alice doesn't believe in starvation diets. She believes that exercise is best to keep her figure youthfully slender. But, at the same time, she never goes herself on foods that she knows won't do her any good, which, I imagine, is one reason why exercise seems sufficient to keep her figure perfectly proportioned.

It is a wise girl who chooses a sensible method of reducing. A carefully-planned dieting and exercising routine such as the one outlined in my "New Figure" booklet, for instance, is an ideal type, because it is well balanced. However, for the woman who likes to plan her own menus, calorie-counting is a good procedure to follow in reducing, too. If a girl eats the proper foods in the proper amounts, and balances her meals well, she is bound to lose weight effectively. And with a good calorie chart she'll not find it at all difficult.

CALORIES NEEDED VARY

The amount of calories required each day varies, of course, with the individual. But—there's a system whereby the average girl can figure out the amount of calories her body needs with great ease. If she is a normally active woman, which means not over-athletic yet not of a sedentary nature, her normal intake of food daily should range from sixteen to twenty calories for each pound of her normal weight. If, for instance, her normal weight is 115 pounds, her diet, to supply the needs of her body, should have a calorie value of from 1,840 to 2,300. This variation in amounts is given to take in difference in activities. If a girl is usually active, she should incline toward the larger number. While, if she's usually inactive, she should incline toward the smaller one. And if she wants to reduce, she should cut down her normal intake of food by about 1,000 calories. This will not only check any weight increase, but will also force the body to draw on its reserves of fat, and thus gradually bring about weight reduction.

Editor's Note: To obtain Miss Glad's pamphlet on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture," write care of Central Press Canadian, Toronto, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with a 3-cent stamp and 10 cents in coin for each stamp to cover cost of printing and handling.

Tourists Finding Fishing Licences Are Unattractive

British Columbia's fishing licence fees are not attractive to tourists, in the opinion of directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, who met yesterday.

Although they considered the old fee of $1 a day for tourists fishing in provincial waters was a "trifle high," they felt it was better than the existing $5-a-season licence.

George I. Warren wished to fish for one, two, three days or the entire season, he had to pay the maximum fee. No family licences, covering any number of persons, were obtainable at present, Mr. Warren said.

Letters from Up-Island fishing resort owners were read, which stated the high licences were proving a severe blow to their businesses.

ELKS ARE ARRIVING

VANCOUVER, July 29.—Nearly 1,000 delegates arrived here today to attend the Canadian convention of B.P.O. Elks to be held July 31 to August 2. Further delegates are expected tomorrow.

COMMITTEE WILL NOT SIT FOR MONTHS

either to register approval or disapproval and adjourned to meet several months hence.

NEW SPECULATION

This development started a new wave of speculation in quarters already speculating on the probable success of the diplomatic manoeuvring of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, who has accused Italy of violating treaties and is known to desire that the league name Italy the aggressor in the African trouble.

The ruler of Africa's empire, in his latest communication with the league, makes it plain that he expects the council to revive the mission of conciliation and arbitration and instruct it to go to the bottom of the dispute.

In another note, handed by Ethiopia's Foreign Minister, Bellegen Queta Heroy, to the Italian minister at Addis Ababa today, the Emperor's Government made this plain. It said it will not consider resumption of arbitration for a partial discussion of the dispute.

"HALT THAT WAR"

LONDON, July 29.—Anthony Eden, Minister for League of Nations Affairs, pocketed powerfully-phrased instructions today and prepared to go first to Paris, then to the League of Nations Council meeting at Geneva, seeking a peaceful solution of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

An authoritative source disclosed that he was told to "do everything humanly possible" and "halt that war."

But neither Eden nor the large group of Foreign Office experts going with him tomorrow has a definite formula for peaceful settlement, and not much hope was expressed today that a way will be found to prevent a break in conversations with Premier Pierre Laval of France, whom Eden will join in Paris for the trip to Switzerland.

In any event he will try on Wednesday morning, at Geneva, to make an effective personal appeal to the Italian delegate, Baron Pompeo Aloisi, for a changed Italian attitude, later bringing Laval into a three-way conversation.

ONLY ONE QUESTION

ROME, July 29.—Instructions which six Italian experts carried with them when they departed today for the League of Nations Council meeting at Geneva were summed up in well-informed circles in four words.

"Don't let Italy down."

In the same circles this was interpreted to mean that Baron Pompeo Aloisi, seventh member of the delegation and its head, will oppose determinedly any effort by anyone to inject a general examination of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute into the Council agenda.

The whole weight of the Italian delegation, the spokesmen said, will be thrown behind the Italian insistence that there is only one question before that body: that of reviving the activities of the arbitration commission.

A FINAL MEETING

PARIS, July 29.—At the Palace of the Elisee tomorrow the French Cabinet meets finally to determine its attitude before the fateful session of the Council of the League of Nations on the menace of war in East Africa.

Premier Pierre Laval goes to Geneva in the role of conciliator. Despite the moaning of troops and of ever-increasing preparations for battle, France feels that all is not lost. She sees in Italy's consent to attend the special council of the League some result for her efforts.

The policy of the Laval Government is to avoid anything which might lead to a rupture and never to despair.

Le Temps, which usually reflects the French Foreign Office, editorially comments tonight as follows: "Without allowing too many illusions on the course of events during the next few days at Geneva, one can consider the essential thing for

Le Temps, which usually reflects the French Foreign Office, editorially comments tonight as follows: "Without allowing too many illusions on the course of events during the next few days at Geneva, one can consider the essential thing for the moment is that the council is reuniting with Italy at present and that an agreement is reached on its agenda.

"It would be an error to extend that agenda to the entire quarrel for it cannot be contested seriously that by the very terms of the resolution adopted in May last, the council does not have to examine the heart of the problem in the light of Article 15 of the League Covenant before August 25, a delay fixed for the procedure of conciliation and arbitration. On this point the position of Italy is very strong."

"DIFFICULT TO UNDERSTAND"

"Also it is difficult to understand that in certain foreign quarters, under the pretext of safeguarding the authority of the League of Nations, in starting things fully and without waiting for the ruling of Geneva, they persist in wanting to precipitate things—at the risk of compromising everything and even of provoking the retreat of Italy from the League."

The British view, on the other hand, remains that failing a definite basis of settlement in the meantime the council of the League must take the whole issue between Italy and Ethiopia in hand. Delays with troops on the move are felt to be dangerous.

Already there are signs of uneasy stirrings among the colored people in British protectorates. The issue in the British view does not affect Italy and Ethiopia alone. It challenges the League and the whole system of collective security.

France and Britain, therefore, while agreed on the necessity of maintaining the League and a desire to preserve the peace, differ on the method. In the train from Paris to Geneva Laval and Anthony Eden, Minister for League Affairs, who will represent Britain, will endeavor to agree on a common line of action.

Before the council assemblies on Wednesday, afternoon they will meet Baron Pompeo Aloisi, the chief Italian representative, in a final effort to preserve peace.

SEE MODERN TROOPS

ADDIS ABABA, July 29.—Emperor Haile Selassie's field army from Southern Ethiopia arrived today and gave the stirred capital its first evidence of the country's large scale military movement.

The troops, equipped with the most modern implements of war supplied by the Emperor, departed soon after arrival for an undisclosed destination. It was said they went to the frontier of Eritrea, the Italian colony on the east.

The appearance of the modernized and well-disciplined troops excited the populace to enthusiastic demonstrations. The general mobilization has not been formally proclaimed and martial activities have been limited to drilling. Hence the slight caused cheers.

The 10,000 troops under the command of Dedjazmach Haptmikael, former Cabinet minister, marched from their quarters in Gaimu.

The wife of the commander, one of the highest of the nobility as the granddaughter of Ras Tsewama, late Regent of Ethiopia, during Emperor Menelik's illness, demanded arms and volunteered to join the army and fight in her nation's defence. Authoritative sources expressed belief that the Emperor was seriously considering the request.

"FAMILY OF LIONS"

Another woman, speaking in the public square, declared to the patriotic throng:

"The Italians accuse us of being savages, which is a fact, inasmuch as we are the savages of a family of lions."

Her reference was to the Emperor, known as "The Lion of Judah."

Following the passing of the troops, volunteers filled the streets, engaging in military activities.

The soldiers of the Emperor wore khaki uniforms and were equipped with new rifles, machine guns and artillery. They marched with spirit.

Government officials in general denied any knowledge of a clash at Walait, reported in the London press.

An imperial decree establishing an Ethiopian Red Cross was another item of military preparations. It was formed yesterday at a meeting of patriotic women.

Reports reached here that a number of native Somalis have revolted in Italian Somaliland and started for Ethiopia in the region of Ustul.

MICKEY MOUSE
IDEAS SOUGHT

Director of Walt Disney Enterprises Will Make Tour Of B.C. Coast

WINNIPEG, July 29.—On his first trip through Western Canada in many years, William Erskine, director of the Walt Disney Enterprises, spent the week-end in Winnipeg and left for the West over Canadian National lines Sunday. He is traveling in the interests principally of his internationally famous little pal, Mickey Mouse, and believes the general atmosphere and surroundings of Jasper Park and Malaga Lake areas will be productive of some new ideas for the interesting new chap.

Mr. Disney makes eighteen pictures a year. It was his intense love for animals that started him off on his Mickey Mouse career, and this later developed into the Silly Symphony series in color. England has been the most receptive country for the Disney films, and on his arrival there a short time ago, a special train took him to London.

"It takes 300 persons three weeks to make a Disney picture and 15,000 individual drawings are required. His latest, 'Who Killed Cock Robin?' is now in process of completion," said Mr. Erskine.

During his Western trip, Mr. Erskine will visit Jasper Park Lodge, and later proceed to Prince Rupert, where he will sail on the Ss. Prince George for Vancouver, arriving there August 5.

German Count
Loses Yacht
Through Fire

BREMEN, July 29 (AP).—Count Felix von Luckner's auxiliary-engine schooner Mopelia burned during the night in the harbor because of a machine-room short circuit. The ship is believed a total loss.

Fourteen persons, including the Countess von Luckner and her sister, were aboard when the fire broke out, but none was injured.

Built in the State of Washington in 1918 at a cost of $500,000, the Mopelia was originally christened the Vaterland, but was renamed in honor of the tiny island where von Luckner's famous raider, the Seeadler, was wrecked in the Great War.

INDUSTRIAL MAGNATE IS DUE TODAY

Ginzaburo Fujiwara, Aboard Empress of Japan, to Study B.C. Pulp Mills

VISIT IS FRAUGHT WITH SIGNIFICANCE

Prominent among the passengers aboard the Ss. Empress of Japan, which is due at William Head today, is Ginzaburo Fujiwara, head of the Oji Paper Mills Combine, and one of the industrial magnates of Japan.

His visit to these shores is fraught with significance: in view of the recent rift in trade relations between Japan and Canada.

Mr. Fujiwara is reported as saying he intends to study, as far as possible, the paper and wood pulp manufacturing industries in Western Canada, and also to observe allied activities, such as the forestry service and the lumbering industry.

He is quoted as denying that his visit has anything to do with the trade deadlock between Japan and Canada as a result of which the Japanese Government has imposed a surtax of 50 per cent. under the authority of the Tariff Commission.

Law, on lumber and woodpulp and other leading Canadian exports to Japan with the effect of shutting them out.

LEADING FIRM

Mr. Fujiwara's corporation operates vast lumbering, woodpulp and paper industries in Hokkaido, Karafuto (Japanese Saghalien) and elsewhere, and is the leading organization of its kind in Japan.

Due to the fact Japan's pulp and paper industries have been unable to keep up with the increased demand, large quantities have to be imported from abroad, and Canada has been supplying a fair portion of this.

Mr. Fujiwara expects also to visit Alaska before his return to Japan.

The Empress of Japan is running several hours behind schedule, but should dock here before 10 o'clock.

Little is known as to the amount of freight he is carrying. However, she has a fairly heavy mail to set down here, including twenty-one sacks for Victoria, 276 for the United States and twelve for airmail delivery.

ALASKA CRUISE WILL BE MADE

Private Party from Buffalo Will Make Leisurely Trip Aboard Caroline

VANCOUVER, July 29.—En route to Alaska for a hunting, fishing and sightseeing trip—a party of seven from Buffalo, N.Y., arrived in Vancouver this morning over Canadian National Railway. They transferred immediately to the private yacht Caroline, of Seattle, which they chartered for the next six weeks to make a leisurely cruise through Alaskan waters.

Heading the group was E. G. Spaulding, prominent Buffalo business man. He is accompanied by Mr. Spaulding and his two children: his brother, S. V. R. Spaulding and his son, and Raymond Albright.

The party carried complete trail equipment for overland excursions and moving picture cameras to record their travels and sporting expeditions with rod and gun.

REPAIRS TO SHIPS ADVANCE STEADILY

Repairs to the King Ebert, which was in collision with the R.M.S. Niagara, are expected to be completed and the ship ready for sea again by about August 9 or 10, officials of the Victoria Machinery Depot reported yesterday.

Satisfactory progress also is being made on the repairs to the Niagara, which is now in drydock, Yarrow's Ltd., reported. However, officials could not say when she would be ready for sea, although local steamship officials have announced that she probably will sail on August 1 or 2 for Australia.

FURNESS VESSEL DOCKS FROM U.K.

Discharges Sixty Tons of Freight Before Loading Small Parcel of Lumber

The Furness (Pacific) Line motorship Pacific President docked from United Kingdom ports last night to discharge freight and embark a number of Victoria passengers.

Those landing here were Mrs. F. Buchanan and her two children, Miss F. Buchanan and Master J. P. W. Buchanan.

The vessel discharged fifty tons of freight here before taking on a parcel of lumber. She will proceed to Vancouver at noon today.

Still Sails on the Pacific Run

The good ship Vigilant, slow but picturesque, is one of the few commercial sailing vessels that still ply their course between the mainland and Hawaii. From her home port of Bellingham, Wash., the Vigilant regularly sails between Puget Sound and Honolulu, laden with lumber on the outbound voyage and returning with 200 tons in rock ballast. On the Vigilant's last voyage to the mainland, Miss Margaret Wells, a nurse of that city, was aboard as a passenger—a thrill she had waited months to realize. The crew's traditional dislike of having a feminine "jinx" aboard was eventually overcome. The master of the Vigilant is Captain Charles A. Melberg.

CONCILIATION
BOARD ASKED

Intervention of Government Sought to End Strike of Longshoremen

VANCOUVER, July 29 (AP).—Dominion Government intervention in Vancouver's longshore labor dispute will be sought by the city council, it was decided today at a meeting between the council's committee on harbor utilities and a delegation of masters and the Fellowship for a Christian Social Order.

The delegation petitioned the committee to move for appointment of a board of conciliation under the Industrial Disputes Act.

Rev. H. P. Davidson stated that the "port is crippled," with 2,500 men out of work and 5,000 dependents cut off from the means of livelihood.

Mayor G. G. McGeer undertook to ask for Dominion intervention at once, after obtaining majority consent of the aldermen.

OCEAN SERVICE NEARLY READY

Trans-Pacific Seaplane Passenger Route Is Two Steps Nearer Realization

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29 (AP).—Trans-Pacific airplane passenger service took two steps closer to realization today with a double-barreled announcement from officials of the Pan-American Airways system.

First, the return of the Pan-American's chartered supply and construction ship North Haven from its fifteen-week job of building stations at Midway, Wake and Guam Islands caused Colonel Clarence M. Young, manager of the Pacific Division, to announce "The air route is now ready for operations."

Secondly, officials of Pan-American, the Matson Navigation Company and the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, of Hawaii, joined in announcing a ship-and-plane service agreement has been signed by the three firms.

The nineteen-ton clipper plane now based at the Alameda Airport on San Francisco Bay will make at least one more exploration flight. Its next trip will carry the huge flying boat to Wake Island and possibly to Guam and the Philippines.

It has already made two round-trip flights to Hawaii and one to tiny Midway Island, 1,300 miles beyond Honolulu.

Sliding St. Louis Cardinals Beaten By Pittsburgh, 3-2

Frankie Frisch's Lads Continue Downward Trail in National League—Cleveland Cuts Detroit's Lead by 6-5 Win—Tigers Are Now Two and One-Half Games Ahead.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
PITTSBURGH, July 29 (AP)—Red Lucas, stocky right hander, added to the discomfiture of the sliding St. Louis Cardinals today by holding the world champions to four hits as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat them, 3-2, for the third victory of the four-game series. Pepper Martin slapped Lucas for a home run in the fourth. R. H. E. Pittsburgh 3 1 1 2 St. Louis 2 4 0 0 Batteries—Hallahan, Huesner and Delancy; Lucas and Padden.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
CLEVELAND, July 29 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians did a right about face today, walloped Alvin Crowder for half a dozen runs in the sixth inning to beat the Detroit Tigers, 6-5, for the first time in their last twelve tries. The defeat cut the Tigers' league-leading margin to two and a half games over the idle Yankees.

Crowder had allowed the Indians only three hits in five innings and the Tigers were leading 3-0 when the balloon suddenly went up in the sixth. Elden Auker replaced Crowder starting the seventh, but the damage was done. R. H. E. Detroit 5 1 4 1 Cleveland 6 9 1 0 Batteries—Crowder, Auker and Cochrane; Hudlin, Lee and Phillips.

It was Chicago's third victory in the set. Manager Rogers Hornsby sent Coffman, Cain and Thomas to the

EAGLES TRIM SONS 9 TO 1

Birdmen Increase Winning Streak in Senior Baseball Pennant Chase

MANAGER Dave Foster's Eagles ball nine increased their winning streak yesterday evening in the Victoria Senior Baseball League pennant hunt when they checked in with a 9-1 victory over the Sons of Canada at the Royal Athletic Park in a five-inning struggle.

Doug Bone started on the hill for the Sons of Canada and stayed for a little more than three innings. His clumbers fielded badly behind him, and this, coupled with timely base knocks by the Eagles and a number of free trips to the initial sack, materially assisted the birdmen in pushing over nine runs.

"Sonny" Walker, lanky youngster, took up the heavy duties after Bone's exit and held the Eagles in check for the rest of the fixture.

YOUNGSTER MAKES DEBUT
Jimmy Proudlove opened on the slab for the winners. He pitched two innings and during his short stay the Canadians garnered their lone market. Louie Leonard, fifteen-year-old recruit from the juvenile league, went the remainder of the journey for the winners. He was nicked for four safeties, but he kept them wide apart. Making his first appearance in the senior loop, the youngster showed plenty of promise and with proper handling should develop into a valuable twirler.

RANKING NET PLAYERS ARE VICTORIOUS

Seeded Stars Advance in B.C. Clay Courts Tourney On Mainland

VANCOUVER, July 29 (AP)—American net stars and a smattering of British Columbians advanced through early rounds of the British Columbia clay courts tennis championships, which opened on the courts of the Jericho Tennis Club here today.

Gene Smith, University of California post-graduate student, who captured the Canadian singles title at the Dominion event at Victoria last week, went into the third round without playing a match, as he was awarded a default in the second, after drawing a first-round bye.

Charles Wetmore, of Berkeley, defeated C. McCarthy, Vancouver, 6-4, 9-7, and Howard Blethen, another Bay City netter, downed B. Day, Vancouver, 6-0, 6-0, in second-round matches.

Only upset in the men's singles was the defeat of young Doug Inhoff, Long Beach, Calif., junior, who dropped a three-set decision to Stan Hayden, of Vancouver, Hayden won 10-8, 3-6, 6-0.

Margaret Osborne, recently-crowned Canadian women's singles titleholder, led the way in the female section with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Miss F. Anderson, Vancouver.

The seventeen-year-old San Francisco star was accompanied into the second round by Mrs. Catherine Rose, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Golda Meyer Gross, of Berkeley, who eliminated two Vancouver players.

Mrs. Rose ousted Mrs. E. McCarthy, 6-1, 6-1, and Mrs. Gross defeated Irene Fleming, 6-3, 8-6.

Only singles matches were played today, with the doubles tennis swinging into action tomorrow.

Brentwood Gala To Be Revived

A popular event with residents of the district and visitors from Victoria, the Brentwood Recreation Club regatta will be revived this year. Tentative plans have gone forward and a strong committee headed by W. Q. Wallace as chairman is drawing up the programme for the meet, which will be held on August 14.

Aquatic and land sports will be included on the programme. There will be swimming, canoe and boat races, while the land events will be held on the Anahorath grounds.

Mixed Doubles—Mrs. Margaret Laird, Glendale, and Ray Casey, San Francisco.

Mickey Walker Loses

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—The comeback of Mickey Walker, former middleweight champion, was halted at its outset tonight when the chunky Irishman from Rumson, N.J., lost a six-round decision to John Anderson, light-heavyweight champion of Sweden. Walker weighed 168 1/2 pounds, Anderson 171 1/2.

Walter Pursey, Seattle, finished next in line with 72-72-144. Chuck Condon, Seattle, one of the early leaders, slipped on the afternoon round for 70-75-145 to tie Ted Longworth, Portland, 72-73, and Don Sutherland, 75-70.

Bud Ward, Olympia, led the amateurs all through the day to wind up on even terms with Willie Price, Longview, a former Olympia pro, with 146. Ward shot 73-71 and Price 74-72. Emery Zimmerman, Al at twenty-five, carded 73-74-147.

Al Zimmerman, winner of every open tournament in the Northwest except the Washington State at one time or another, bagged eight birdies on the thirty-six holes. He started his flashy afternoon round with four birdies on the first five holes.

Christian, victorious in the meet of 1925, 1927 and 1932, also plucked eight birds, but he was unable to hold them all because of the glassy greens. He took a five on the par three fourteenth when he was short with his tee shot and then three-putted.

Two Vancouver Pros Tied for Second Place at Half-Way Mark in Washington State Tournament—Emery Zimmerman Leading Pack

By FRANK O. GORRIE
Associated Press Sports Writer
BELLINGHAM, Wash., July 29 (AP)—They started "picking" on little Emery Zimmerman, the defending champion in the Washington State open golf tournament today, but they didn't get very far for big brother "Al" came to his rescue to save the day for the Zimmerman family.

When several of the boys began passing Emery in the race for the crown, Al took a hitch in his belt and passed the field with a sizzling 67, four under par, in the afternoon, to finish two strokes ahead of Neil Christian, Yakima, three times winner of the title. Al shot 70-67-137 and Christian 70-69-139 for the thirty-six holes—the halfway mark of the seventy-two hole route.

CANADIANS SECOND
The Canadians, Freddie Wood and Dave Black, Vancouver, tied for second place in the race with 143. Both shot 72-71.

Walter Pursey, Seattle, finished next in line with 72-72-144. Chuck Condon, Seattle, one of the early leaders, slipped on the afternoon

Look Out! Here It Comes

How would you like to stand on the fairway and see this ball coming at you like that? Its what the photographer had to do in order to get this unusual shot of the flight of a golf ball. Willie Turnesa is the lad firing the pellet at the cameraman, and he hits them hard. Fortunately the ball soared over the picture-man's head and landed 200 yards down the fairway.

Al Zimmerman, winner of every open tournament in the Northwest except the Washington State at one time or another, bagged eight birdies on the thirty-six holes. He started his flashy afternoon round with four birdies on the first five holes.

Christian, victorious in the meet of 1925, 1927 and 1932, also plucked eight birds, but he was unable to hold them all because of the glassy greens. He took a five on the par three fourteenth when he was short with his tee shot and then three-putted.

Scores included: Harry Winder, Vancouver, 73-73-146. Ernie Tate, Powell River, 77-72-149. Alf Tate, Vancouver, 73-76-152. Benny Colk, Vancouver, 73-80-153. Duncan Sutherland, Vancouver, 77-77-156. Jim Brodie, Vancouver, 84-82-166. Hal Rhodes, Vancouver, 85-82-167. Denotes amateur.

Walter Pursey, Seattle, finished next in line with 72-72-144. Chuck Condon, Seattle, one of the early leaders, slipped on the afternoon round for 70-75-145 to tie Ted Longworth, Portland, 72-73, and Don Sutherland, 75-70.

Bud Ward, Olympia, led the amateurs all through the day to wind up on even terms with Willie Price, Longview, a former Olympia pro, with 146. Ward shot 73-71 and Price 74-72. Emery Zimmerman, Al at twenty-five, carded 73-74-147.

CAPTURES DOUBLES FIXTURE TO DEFEAT UNITED STATES 3-0

Hughes and Tuckey Spring Surprise by Five-Set Victory Over Allison and Van Ryn by Scores of 6-2, 1-6, 6-8, 6-3 and 6-3—Exhibition Singles Matches Are Set for Today

WIMBLEDON, England, July 29 (AP)—A new British combination today upset all calculations, defeating the United States in the doubles match to clinch up Britain's third successive victory in the classic of world tennis, the Davis Cup.

Paired together for the first time in Davis Cup "play, the veteran George Patrick Hughes and young C. R. D. Tuckey came from behind to take the measure of the United States team, Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, after five sets that saw the Englishmen in complete command at the finish. They won 6-2, 1-6, 6-8, 6-3 and 6-3.

As the defenders had captured both singles matches Saturday, the rout of the invading challengers was complete. Two remaining singles matches tomorrow are reduced to exhibition status. It was the first doubles victory for British since Hughes and Fred Perry turned back the Australians, Turnbull and Quist, in preliminary rounds three years ago. It was the first doubles defeat for the Americans since Brundage and Cochet, of France, stopped the same pair, Allison and Van Ryn, in 1930.

DOUBLE FAULT DECIDES
The Americans were a dejected crew after Allison had served a double fault to end the match. The veteran Texan's costly error sent a strongly pro-British crowd yelling delightedly. Cushions and hats were thrown about wildly.

After the match the American dressing room for a time represented a morgue. Allison and Van Ryn tried to break the moribund atmosphere by "riding" each other jokingly. Non-playing Captain Joseph Wear was the most downcast. Choked with emotion, he spluttered: "We played our best men and did our best, but England had the better team."

Tuckey opened first and quickly won a love game as the Britons knocked three out and netted one. Tuckey came back and served two aces to win the twice-deuce second game and then the Britons broke Van Ryn in another deuce game as the Americans netted the last three points.

Allison and Van Ryn broke Hughes' easy ailed delivery in the fourth game by knocking everything at Tuckey. The Britons then broke Allison to take a 3-2 lead as Tuckey smashed two placements between the Americans.

Tuckey served powerfully to win the four-times deuce sixth game. The Britons broke the luckless Van Ryn again in the seventh game as the Philadelphia continued to net everything. England went out behind Hughes' delivery as he smashed the final point for a placement, drawing tremendous applause.

AMERICANS LEAD
The Americans jumped to a 3-0 lead in the second set as they broke Tuckey with a withering net game. Allison increased his side's lead to 5-0, winning his serve with the loss of only one point as the Britons netted two of his blistering serves.

Tuckey's cannonball delivery finally gave England a game—the sixth—which was deuced and lost by the Americans when Van Ryn and Allison, respectively, netted and outed the last two points. The Americans, however, went out on Van Ryn's serve with the loss of a point when Allison thrust for a placement missed the line.

Hughes opened the third set by serving a love game and then the Britons broke through Allison at deuce as Van Ryn again netted. The Britons moved into a 3-0 lead as Tuckey whizzed across a great love game.

Hughes held his own service in the fifth game, winning the last two points with cannonballs. Allison twice-messed up simple smashes at the net in the sixth game, which Tuckey won at 4-1 on his own serve.

Hughes exploded another love game to give the Britons a 5-3 lead. The American returned only one of his terrific serves and Tuckey killed that one without further argument. Allison, after netting two in a row, let the score go to 15-40 against the Americans in the last game and then double-faulted into the net to end the match on the weakest possible stroke.

HOLDS OWN SERVICE
Van Ryn held his own service, also at 4-1, going in to smash the last two points at Tuckey's feet, and the British lead was four games to three.

Match Will Finish Today and Nearly Two Innings Must Be Completed or Match Will Be Another Deadlock—Springboks Reply With 318 Runs in First Innings

MANCHESTER, England, July 29.—Unless one team collapses, another draw is in prospect for the fourth test match between England and South Africa. One day remains to finish the encounter and practically two innings have to be played.

As matters stand, England, with one wicket down in its second innings, is eighty-two runs ahead. Replaying to the Mother Country's first innings total of 357, the Springboks batted five hours today for 318. In the short time left for play England obtained 43 runs for the loss of Denis Smith's wicket.

The tourists have one victory to their credit, while two have been drawn. A fifth test is scheduled for August 17.

Six thousand were present when the match was resumed in fine weather on an easy wicket. E. A. B. Rowan and Bruce Mitchell were the opening pair, the former experiencing difficulty in playing William Bowes, Yorkshire's bespectacled fast bowler.

The South African scored 13 when Bowes succeeded in uprooting his off-stump, the first wicket falling for 21. Twenty runs were added when Mitchell nicked a ball from Walter Hammond into the hands of the English wicket-keeper, George Duckworth. Kenneth Viljoen and A. D. Nourse added 50 when the latter was out, leg before wicket, to Hedley Verity. He scored 29 in a spirited display.

CROWD INCREASES

Viljoen reached his 50 in an hour and forty minutes. Following the dismissal of Nourse, Herbert Wade, Springbok captain, came in. After making 16 he was given out, leg before, to Bowes, and the fourth wicket fell at 124. H. B. Cameron, hard-hitting vice-captain of the South Africans, played with vigour until lunch. At that point Viljoen had scored 62 and his colleague 18, including a terrific hit for 6 off Verity.

Marjorie Tate finally dismissed Cameron, the South African wicket-keeper being caught by Bowes fielding at mid-off, with the total at 223. He scored 53 runs. Shortly afterwards Viljoen reached his century. He took three hours and twenty minutes to reach the three-figure mark, but his batting was sound. Dalton succeeded. Cameron. He scored 47 and then fell a victim to Robins.

VILJOEN IS CAUGHT

Viljoen carried his total to 124, when he was caught by Verity off Bowes. He batted four hours and forty minutes and hit ten fours. The eighth wicket fell at 311 without addition to the score, when Alfred Bakewell caught A. B. C. Langton, Bowes again being the bowler.

The remaining players were soon disposed of. R. J. Crisp made 3, then being caught by Verity, while Allen Bell got his leg in front of one of Tate's deliveries.

Shoots Fine 71 to Take Lead in Public Links Golf Tourney

By PAUL MICKELSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

COFFIN GOLF LINKS, INDIANAPOLIS, July 29 (AP).—One

Swede trumped through the weeds (and trees and lakes, too) to momentary glory in golf today.

A fatalistic man of thirty-one, with no fears of the reputation and pitfalls of the dreaded "Coffin" course, which took a heavy toll of shots, Lloyd Nordstrom, Davenport,

Iowa, became "king for a day" of the nation's municipal marksmen by scoring a 71, one over par, to take a three-shot lead in the big struggle for the medal of the national public links golf championship.

Deadlocked for second place with 74's came a quintette, most of them from the opposite side of the continent—Claude Rippy, a Washington, D.C., clerk; Delbert Walker,

Long Beach, Cal., and two Portland, Ore., stars, Louis Cyr and Tab

Boyer. Pete Doll, Louisville, was the fifth, sending Louisville ahead in the team fight with a 305 total.

Strung behind him were 181 more starters, whose scores ranged from 75 upward to the century mark, among them Dave Mitchell, Indianapolis, defending champion, who needed 77 blows to tour the course today.

Scotty Campbell, of Seattle, scored 76, and his fellow town-man, Harry Umbreit, had a 75.

Steve Kipper and Bob Gourlay, both of Seattle, turned in cards of 83.

Mickey Cochrane, Tigers' manager, edged his way into the big

Six yesterday as he belted Cleveland pitching for three hits and dislodged

Charley Gehring, his teammate, and Roger Cramer, of the Athletics, from last place in the sextette.

Mickey boosted his hitting average six points in the day to .335.

Arky Vaughan, leader of the field,

added to points to his average, now

.395, while Joe Vosmik, of the Indians, topping the American League clouters, dropped two points to .357.

FLIGHT...by W. D. TIPTON and J. H. MASON

LOUIS Blériot was a mechanic in an electrical factory when the late Lord Northcliffe offered a prize for the first aviator to fly the English Channel. But for this fact Blériot might not today be regarded as one of the great pioneers in the development of aviation, for the Northcliffe prize was the reason he deserted his trade to design and build the monoplane that was to make a distinct step forward in the art at that time.

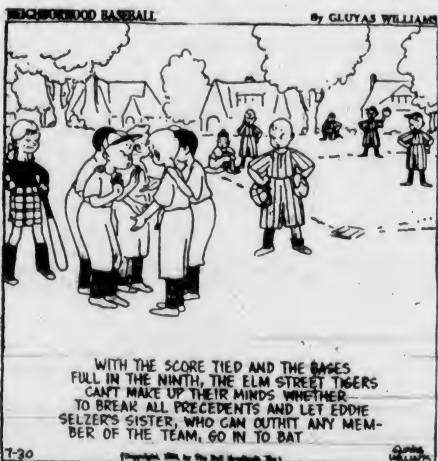

He was forty years old when he made the Channel flight. After a few years of building and flying his own planes, he quit flying and devoted his time to manufacturing. Only recently he retired from the field. Today a Blériot monoplane holds the world's distance record, made by Paul Godes and Maurice Rossi when they flew from New York to Rayak, Syria, a distance of 5300 miles, in fifty-five hours and forty-nine minutes.

During the war, the name of Blériot was seldom heard, for his factory was busy turning out war planes designed by other manufacturers. He built many of the famous Spads which were so popular with French and American pilots.

"How," inquires a reader, "did the expression 'two bits' indicate the sum of twenty-five cents originate?"

The answer to this query takes us back to the days when Spain and Spanish customs exercised a considerable influence on American life and language.

Among these Castilian customs was the institution of the Spanish milled dollar, which was the equivalent of eight reals.

This was the coin which was perpetuated in song, history and pirate legend as the Piece of Eight. Another Spanish coin was the two real piece. This, however, happening to be quite scarce, was more natural for people, in those carefree days, simply to take the eight real piece and cut it into quarters.

Each quarter section represented two real pieces or bits of a dollar—twenty-five cents American—and became so-called.

THE TEST

The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said that steering a ship was much easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said looking after the engines was a child's play—compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places.

After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten.

"Mac," he shouted, "I can't get the engines to start!"

"That's all right," replied the engineer, "ye needna bother—we're aground."

STORMY LOVE

A YOUNG NAVY MAN'S ROMANCE BELLE BURNS GROMER

SYNOPSIS
Carefree Lieutenant Valentine Preston, attached to a ship in China, is in love with a girl who is a member of the family of the United States. He is a young man who is a member of the family of the United States. He is a young man who is a member of the family of the United States.

CHAPTER II
Eleven months ago in Manila, Val had had his first introduction to Janice Eddings as a grown-up. His ship had just returned from North China, and, on the memorable evening when he sauntered into the Army and Navy Club with no hope that the dinner dance in progress might be anything but the usual stereotyped affair, he had been jolted to a standstill by the glimpse of an arresting stranger. Slender, golden-blond, hazel-eyed, wearing a frock of filmy green, she had made him think of a clean, fresh breeze of crystal streams in pine groves back in the States. Not beautiful, really—and he was almost by beauty—but even before he had recognized in her his childhood playmate, he had gone straight to her side.

From that first moment when, delighted to renew their acquaintance, he smiled possessively down at her, he sensed a challenge in this new, poised Jan, and he knew that although much time had elapsed, she had not forgotten his lofty indifference at the Academy. He had always found his line fairly efficacious but during that evening she only laughed at him. And something deep within her had responded joyously to her defiance so that he had resolved to conquer this adamant snow-maiden.

Now he smiled ruefully to acknowledge that both then and later Jan had eluded a flirtation. He had resented this baffling quality in her even while they had danced, played tennis, golfed and swam with the young navy set in Manila and in the China ports where their paths crossed. But later, although they quarreled frequently and with youthful gusto, he grew to respect her as an adversary, and finally he drifted into regarding her merely as a playfellow and a darned square friend.

That is, until this recent trip upriver when in the deck-watches of lonely starlit thoughts, the day he sailed, two months ago, something inexplicable had happened between them. He had called to say good-by, only to find a pale Jan, eyes softened by weariness, her pretty hair disarranged from a night and day vigil beside her ailing small sister, Mimi. It was a new experience to see Jan like that. She was wearing a clinging negligee of palest rose and never had she seemed so appealing nor aroused such tenderness in him. She was endeavoring to persuade a protesting Mimi to take her medicine, and he had taken the spoon from Jan's tired little hand and in no time at all coaxed the youngster to swallow the bitter dose and then told her stories until she drifted into a quiet sleep.

Just before he left to catch the last launch to his ship, he had asked Jan to step out with him the night he should return to Shanghai. Perhaps she was so direct her defenses were down, for when he slipped a tentative arm about her because she seemed completely exhausted, she had, to his pleased amazement, reacted against his shoulder for a moment.

"What a darling you can be when you like, Val," she had murmured.

Peter Rabbit Meets Longbill

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

"I think I'll run over to the Smiling Pool," exclaimed Peter Rabbit. "I haven't been there for some time, so I'll just run over and pay my respects to Grandfather Frog and Redwing the Blackbird. Redwing was one of the first birds to arrive this year and I've neglected him shamefully."

Off Peter started, lippy-lippy-lippy-lippy, for the Smiling Pool. He kept close to the edge of the Green Forest until he reached the place where the Laughing Brook comes out on its way to the Smiling Pool in the Green Meadows. Bushes and young trees grew along the Laughing Brook at this point, and the ground was soft. In places it was quite muddy. Peter doesn't mind getting his feet damp so he hopped along carefully. From under his very nose something soft into the air with a whistling sound. It startled Peter so that he stopped short, with his eyes popping out of his head. He caught just a glimpse of a brown form disappearing over the tops of some small bushes. Then Peter chuckled. "I declare," said he, "I had forgotten all about my friend Longbill the Woodcock. He scared me for a second."

"Then you are even," said a voice close at hand, "for you scared him. I saw you coming, but Longbill didn't."

Peter turned quickly. "There was Mrs. Woodcock peeping at him from behind a tuft of grass. 'I didn't mean to scare him,' apologized Peter. 'I really didn't mean to. Do you think he was very much scared?'"

"Not too scared to come back, anyway," said Longbill himself, dropping down just in front of

"I declare," said he, "I had forgotten all about my friend Longbill the Woodcock."

Peter. "I recognized you just as I was disappearing over the tops of the bushes, so I came right back when I started. It is best to fly first and find out afterwards whether or not there is real danger. I am glad it is not about you, Peter, for I was having a splendid meal here, and I would have hated to leave it. You'll excuse me while I go on eating, I hope. We can talk between bites."

"Certainly, I'll excuse you," replied Peter, staring around very hard to see what it could be Longbill was making such a good meal of. But Peter couldn't see a thing that looked good to eat. There wasn't even a bug or a worm crawling on the ground. Longbill looked two or three steps in rather stately fashion. Peter had to hide a smile. You see, Longbill had such an air of importance, yet at the same time he was such an odd-looking fellow. He was a little bigger than White Robin. His tail was short, his legs were short, and his neck was short. But his bill was long enough to make up. His back was a mixture of grey, brown, black and buff, while his breast and underparts were of a beautiful reddish buff. It was his head that made him look queer. His eyes were very big and so far back that Peter wondered if it wasn't easier for him to look behind rather than in front of him.

PLANE SERVICE IS INCREASED

Return Trip Now Can Be Made in One Day—Is Asset to Businessmen

Due to the increase in the service of the Canadian Airways, Limited, between here and Vancouver, many local businessmen are now afforded the opportunity of transacting their business in person in the Terminal City without being absent from Victoria more than a matter of a few hours. The same applies with respect to Vancouver businessmen, stated yesterday.

The Canadian Airways, Limited, has in operation now a double service, which provides two round-trips daily instead of one as in the past. The schedule is as follows: Leave Victoria 10:30 a.m.; arrive Vancouver 11:15 a.m.; leave Vancouver 4 p.m.; arrive Victoria 4:45 p.m.; leave Victoria 5 p.m.; arrive Vancouver 5:45 p.m.; leave Vancouver 9:30 a.m.; arrive Victoria 10:15 a.m.

Two six-passenger airplanes are used in maintaining this service. One is a Fokker and the other a Fairchild.
